NO. 265—EIGHTY-FOURTH YEAR — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1942 — SIXTEEN PAGES

Two New Battleships Brings Britain's Fleet To Pre-War Strength

Anson and Howe, Pair of 35,000-Ton Warships At Sea, Hoping for Fight with Germany's Tirpitz—Carry Four Aircraft Each—Canadians Among Crew on Anson

Axis Submarine Losses High

LONDON, Oct. 21 (Wednesday) (AP).—Two new 35,000-ton battleships, the Anson and the Howe, are at sea with the fleet, the Admiralty disclosed today, and the Anson already has been in action with her high-angle guns against German aircraft in the Arctic convoy route to Russia.

It is this route that the German battleship Tirpitz occasionally threatens by venturing from her Norwegian berth, and it was understood that the commanders of both the Anson and Howe are engaged in friendly rivalry to see which first can engage this pride of the German navy.

The disclosure that Britain has restored the fleet to its original pre-war strength of fifteen battleships and battle cruisers with completion of the five great battleships of the King George V class came at a time when it is vital for the Allies to maintain their convoys and control the sea if they are to open a second front.

ENEMY HARD HIT

A few hours earlier A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, mentioned both these phases when he announced that at least 530 Axis submarines—German, Italian and Japanese—have been destroyed or damaged by British and American forces since the war began.

The commanders of the new battleships are Capt. H. R. G. Kinahan of the Anson and Capt. C. H. L. Woodhouse of the Howe. There are Canadians and Newfoundlanders among the Anson's crew.

NAVY MINISTER EN ROUTE HERE

To Take Part in Opening of New Naval College—Defends Policy

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP).—Navy Minister Angus Macdonald arrived here by air late today, en route to the opening of Canada's new Naval College at Victoria, and said the Dominion is doing the best naval job she can "with the ships we have."

Commenting on a request by J. E. Roy (Ind., Gaspe) last week for a special session of the House of Commons to discuss recent ship sinkings in the St. Lawrence River, Mr. Macdonald said:

"The St. Lawrence is only one of many coastal waters adjoining Canada and we can't put the whole Canadian Navy in that locality. We are doing the best we can with the ships we have. If some people had been more naval minded in years past we might have had more ships to do the job with today."

PLAN NAVAL STATION

The minister said plans for establishment of a naval training station on Deadman's Island in Vancouver's Harbor are well under way, but refused to name a date on which erection of the station might begin.

Of the action of Canadian naval vessels in Alaskan waters, Mr. Macdonald would say only that he was "satisfied with the way they are co-operating with United States forces."

The minister said he was pleased to be able to be present at the opening of the new Naval College at Esquimalt, near Victoria, and described the college by saying "There is nothing better in Canada."

Mr. Macdonald will leave for Victoria tonight and will make an address at the Naval College opening ceremonies tomorrow.

Vice-Admiral Percy W. Nelles, chief of the Canadian Naval Staff, also will attend the opening ceremonies. He arrived here earlier today and proceeded direct to Victoria.

SYNOD IS OPENED

SMITHERS, B.C., Oct. 20 (CP).—Dean Swanson, of Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, was the main speaker at the opening session of the Anglican Synod of the Diocese of Caledonia today. Bishop G. A. Rix, Prince Rupert, conducted the service assisted by Canon Proctor, Dawson Creek, and Rev. J. McCormick, Vanderhoof.

Force Japanese Back in Battle Of New Guinea

Australians Score in Land Fighting—Base at Buin Damaged by Planes

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Oct. 21 (Wednesday) (CP).—Allied bombers were believed to have inflicted extensive damage in another blow at the Japanese base of Buin in the Northern Solomons, it was announced today, while Australian troops forced back the Japanese three miles in the New Guinea land fight between Templeton's Crossing and Kokoda.

"Continuing to support operations in the Solomons," the communique said of the Buin raid, "Allied medium units made another night attack on the airdrome and enemy shipping at this base. Extensive damage is believed to have been inflicted. There was no attempt at interception. All our planes returned safely."

IN THE MOUNTAINS

Of the battle in the Owen Stanley Mountains, where Allied troops some time ago reduced the Japanese threat to Port Moresby in the south, the communique said:

"By a series of flanking and encircling attacks, the enemy has been forced to retire to new positions three miles north of Templeton's Crossing. Our troops are encountering fire from light artillery and mortars."

This meant the Japanese now are entrenched in positions only nine miles south of Kokoda, the midway point between Buna, the Japanese coastal base, and Port Moresby.

Liberty Ship Is Soon Sunk

RECIFE, Brazil, Oct. 20 (AP).—Sinking of the 10,000-ton United States Liberty ship John Carter Rose was disclosed today with arrival here of thirty-five survivors aboard the Argentine tanker Santa Cruz.

The John Carter Rose, completed only two months ago, was owned by the United States Maritime Commission, and her home port was Baltimore.

Americans Staging Non-Stop Raids on Japanese Positions

Army, Navy and Marine Corps Aircraft Hammer At Guadalcanal as Large Enemy Fleet Hovers Nearby—Great Japanese Thrust, Expected for Days, Not Materialized

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP).—In a strenuous effort to disorganize Japan's big Solomons Island offensive before it can get really started, American flyers are showering enemy troops and supply dumps with bombs in a non-stop series of raids, it was revealed tonight.

Throughout October 18 and 19, a navy communique said, army, navy and marine corps aircraft hammered at the enemy on Guadalcanal, and the great Japanese thrust which has been expected for days has yet to get started.

However, there was no means of telling on the basis of the communique whether the air raids had altered Japanese plans, or whether the enemy was following a prearranged schedule of getting set and fully prepared before launching a land offensive designed to arrest the vital Guadalcanal airfield from the American marines and army men.

Hovering in nearby waters was a large enemy fleet of warships and auxiliaries, although the navy communique said there had been no

LOAN REPORTS ENCOURAGING

Incomplete Returns for Second Day Show Total at $2,284,100

Closing of the second day of the Third Victory Loan campaign saw $2,284,100, or eighteen per cent of Vancouver Island's quota reached with the Up-Island units still incomplete in their returns. Officials were confident that the complete story of the first two days' canvass would relate at least twenty per cent of the objective reached.

The local Victoria unit found on the whole a much greater public acceptance of the loan than had been previously experienced. Oak Bay district workers were encouraged by subscriptions from homes which had not previously contributed.

Esquimalt reported exceptional willingness and enthusiasm on the part of naval dockyard employees and splendid co-operation from the army and navy units located in the district.

Mutinous Italians Are Shot

LONDON, Oct. 20 (CP).—Reuters News Agency reported today under an Italian Frontier dateline that an Italian Alpini regiment had mutinied at Gorizia, in Northern Italy, when it was ordered to the Russian front.

The report said the ring-leaders were shot by the Fascist military and that the troops were embarked forcibly without arms. Meanwhile, trouble for the Axis broke out in Albania, where, according to reports reaching London, Albanian mountaineers proclaimed an independent Albania and were fighting the Italians on three mountain fronts.

Patriots were also reported creating trouble for the Axis in Yugoslavia.

British, American Planes in Night and Day Raids on Axis

Strike Heavy Blows Asea, Ashore and Aloft—Run Into Transport Planes With Gliders Near Crete

CAIRO, Oct. 20 (AP).—British and American planes, in day and night aerial partnership against the Axis, have struck heavy blows ashore, asea and aloft in a new, stepped-up offensive, communiques from the R.A.F. and the U.S.A.A.F. disclosed today.

Two Axis ships were sunk and at least two others hit Sunday night and yesterday in these combined attacks, in which the Allied forces brought into action the whole range of their flying fleets, including fighter - bombers and torpedo planes.

At least two enemy merchantmen were hit by heavy United States bombers in an attack on Tobruk. British torpedo planes left another sinking with hits on her stern off the Italian island of Pantellaria. Long-range British fighter-bombers left a fourth vessel, a two-masted schooner, aflame and sinking off the enemy-held Greek isle of Crete.

DOWN JUNKERS

Homeward bound from this attack, the same planes encountered a large formation of fighter-escorted JU-52 transport planes, some of them towing gliders, over the Eastern Mediterranean about twenty-five miles southwest of Gavdos, a small island off the south coast of Crete.

One of the Junkers was downed, the R.A.F. communique said.

The Germans are known to have been using Crete as a way station for supplying the Axis army in North Africa, both by sea and air. The point where the sky-trains were met indicated that the Nazis were

Canada Sending Best Materials

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP).—[illegible] tonight brought back to Canada an encouraging message for Canada's 900,000 war workers—the materials they are turning out are the best reaching the British Isles, on the authority of Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander-in-chief of the Canadian Army overseas.

Bombers Blast Nazi Ports and Rail Junction

Fast Mosquito Planes Attack Strongly Defended Areas In Daylight

LONDON, Oct. 20 (CP).—Britain's fast Mosquito bombers attacked three of Germany's most strongly-defended areas today in another of their precision daylight raids.

Flying singly, the Mosquitos slashed from low levels at targets near the important railway junction of Hannover and at the ports of Wilhelmshaven and Bremen.

Bombs burst in the heart of Bremen, an Air Ministry communique said, but no details of the damage were given.

This was the first time in more than a year that Bremen was attacked in daylight, the last occasion being September 2, 1941. It was the second time this month that Hannover had a daylight attack, but the first on Wilhelmshaven since August 21.

EASY TRIP

The flight to Hannover meant a round trip of at least 700 miles, an easy job for the Mosquitos which combine speed with long range.

Although they flew into some of the Nazis' heaviest anti-aircraft fire and fighter concentrations, the communique said only one plane was missing in the day's operations.

While the R.A.F. was continuing its bombing of the continent, the Nazi air force remained grounded. No German raids on Britain were reported after yesterday's scattered attacks on East Anglia.

Air Ministry sources said nineteen railway engines, seven tugs and numerous barges were destroyed by the R.A.F.'s Mustang fighters last week in operations against German communications in Holland.

At the same time R.C.A.F. headquarters announced the destruction of four locomotives in Northern France by aircraft of two Canadian squadrons. There was no indication when this operation took place.

DIEPPE UNITS READY AGAIN

Ralston, Back at Ottawa, Reports All Practically Up To Strength

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP).—Every unit that fought at Dieppe is up to strength again or practically so, Defence Minister Ralston said tonight on his return from what he described as a "periodic visit" to the troops in Britain.

Colonel Ralston arrived by air plane after a twenty-three-hour journey from a British airport to Ottawa, accompanied by Munitions Minister Howe, Lieut.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the General Staff; Col. H. A. Dyde, Colonel Ralston's military secretary; Ralph P. Bell, director of aircraft production, and Desmond Clarke, director of ship-building.

The six men were absent from Ottawa just under three weeks. Mr. Howe and his officials conferred with British supply officials and heads of the Canadian Army on equipment and supply problems.

The Break-Step

BEFORE a British battalion marches across a bridge the order is given to "break step." Otherwise, marching feet would transfer dangerous vibrations to the bridge, these vibrations would build up into intolerable strains, and down would come the bridge. Aggressors who have built a bridge of conquest across Europe will be brought down in that way. There will be no break-step. The United Nations marching in unison—moving forward shoulder to shoulder and step by step—will set up forces that cannot be denied. Down will come the bridge of stolen conquests. Once again it will be "Blue Bonnets O'er the Border" into Germany, as it was at Cologne in 1918 when the first Canadian Corps went by.

To that end we must keep in step. Each individual must be marching, or sending his dollars marching, on our side. The end, then, will be sure. In the Third Victory Loan Canada is asking for $750,000,000—fighting dollars. Which will be yours?

SOVIETS TURN BACK TWO FURIOUS TANK ASSAULTS IN CITY

Captured Nazis Say Their Divisions Lost Seventy Per Cent of Effectiveness in Last Few Days—Russians in Counter-Attack in Caucasus Take Village—Germans at Standstill

Enemy Uses 1,500 Bombers

MOSCOW, Oct. 21 (Wednesday) (AP).—The Russians announced today that their Stalingrad garrison had repulsed two furious German attacks supported by seventy tanks inside the city yesterday, and quoted Nazi captives as saying their divisions lost 70 per cent of their effectives in the last few days.

The Tuesday midnight communique told of the continuing successful Russian defence, now in its ninth week, after front dispatches disclosed that the Red Army was strengthened by reinforcements ferried across the Volga River and intermittently relieved by cold Autumnal storms sweeping the area.

The Germans [illegible] a detachment of mounted troops supported by forty tanks against Russian lines in the workers' section of the city, the communique said, but "the enemy was flung back to his starting position."

Later in the day the Germans sent thirty more tanks into the attack, the bulletin continued. This attack also was repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy in men and tanks. At the end of the day our troops firmly held their positions.

STRENGTHEN POSITIONS

Soviet troops north of Stalingrad were said to have strengthened their positions in local fighting on the Nazi flank with one Russian detachment wiping out two Rumanian infantry companies and aircraft supports knocking down two Nazi planes.

In the Caucasus the Russians said their troops attacking Hizoga captured a point of vital importance and continued to press back the Hitlerites" in the Mozdok area, while in the Nazis from the Grozny oilfields some fifty miles to the east.

As a result of the fighting in this sector about 800 German officers and men were killed, the communique said. We also captured an enemy store of food and munitions as well as various arms.

Southwest of Novorossisk along the Black Sea coast the war bulletin said, Soviet marines had repulsed enemy attacks at the 100 Axis troops in one sector and dispersing a Rumanian infantry company in another.

Like the midnight communique, yesterday's noon communique also indicated the Germans had been unable to extend their salient in the

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Kemsley Ltd.)

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Despite their life and death battle at Stalingrad, the Red Armies are evidently preparing for a new offensive around Rzhev, according to German reports, which state big concentrations of troops in that sector. However, as frost had not yet hardened the ground around the Valdai Hills, the Stockholm correspondent of The Times is of the opinion that an early move here is unlikely.

Nevertheless, the Germans for a week past have been bombing railway junctions to the rear in an effort to prevent the Russians launching attacks. There are no railways around Rzhev itself which the Nazis can use, and the only communications are improvised roads built by the invaders.

* * *

Meanwhile the battle for Stalingrad goes on, and the Germans are trying to press home attacks for which they prepared by six days of continuous bombing. The Nazis made 1,600 sorties in a single day, meaning the total of raids made by each individual aircraft, whether alone or in formation.

The Red barricade of armament works, the Stockholm correspondent says, has been pounded to bits and the Dzerzhinsky plant has also been lost. Red October Metal Works remains and defence of it is carried on with undiminished courage.

Since the end of September the Germans have accumulated vast numbers of soldiers and quantities of material near the Don and Volga elbows that capture of Stalingrad's ruins appears to be dictated more by Hitler's insistence on it than by strategical necessity. Winter is too near for the wrecked buildings to be of much use to the invaders.

Apparently the Red Air Force, despite Stalingrad's peril, has been sent in part elsewhere and already the Nazis are beginning to wonder if they have not paid too high a price for Stalingrad's rubble heap. The strategical importance of what the Russian High Command is planning may yet [illegible] surprise Hitler's men.

Brush Fire Spreading in California

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Oct. 20 (AP).—A brush fire which broke out in the Santa Monica Mountains north of here early today had burned late tonight over an estimated 8,000 acres and was spreading rapidly inland.

More than 800 men fought the blaze and firemen from the Los Angeles fire department were stationed at the far-flung city limits as a precaution.

Spencer Turner, Los Angeles fire warden, said the blaze had "crossed the highest ridges of the Santa Monica Mountains as it raced inland." It also reversed its path in the opposite direction and flamed back almost Malibu Creek toward the ocean.

The fire burned out of control late today after skirting the Malibu Colony residential section in the coastal mile.

WHOLE CABINET QUITS IN CHILE

Gives President Freedom to Replace Pro-Axis Foreign Minister

SANTIAGO, Oct. 20 (AP).—The Chilean Cabinet resigned tonight to give President Juan Antonio Rios freedom of action in replacing Foreign Minister Ernesto Barros Jarpa, advocate of continuing relations with the Axis.

An announcement said Rios had accepted the resignations, but asked the ministers to continue in their posts until a new Cabinet was named. It said the President would select the ranks within the next forty-eight hours.

The joint resignation merely said the ministers were stepping out to give the President a chance to name a new Cabinet "in the presence of the delicate political situation."

The Cabinet resignation was a result of the recent statement of United States Secretary of State Sumner Welles that two South American countries, presumably Chile and Argentina, were being used by Axis agents as bases.

Since Welles made his declaration there have been mass meetings throughout the country demanding the resignation of Barros Jarpa and a rupture of relations with the Axis.

Another result of the statement was the postponement of President Rios' proposed visit to the United States.

The Cabinet resignation was pre-

REPRISALS IF HESS TRIED

LONDON, Oct. 21 (Wednesday) (CP).—The German radio said last night the Nazi Government would take "extreme and drastic" reprisals if Britain accepts Russia's suggestion that Rudolf Hess be tried immediately for war guilt. The influential London Times editorially expressed belief the British Government would not take any such action until after the war, and said any such course "would be a pretext for a campaign of frightfulness against British prisoners in Axis hands."

NEW COMMANDER

LONDON, Oct. 21 (Wednesday) (CP).—Reuter's News Agency quoted a Beirut dispatch of the Independent French Agency today as saying that Lt.-Gen. William Holmes would succeed Lt.-Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson as commander of the British 9th Army in the Middle East. Military sources in London were unable to confirm or deny the report.

Laval Asserts France Must Supply Workers to Germany

"Laws of War," He Declares, Suggesting German Victory Inevitable — Empire Cause of Worry

VICHY, Oct. 20 (AP).—Pierre Laval renewed his appeal for Frenchmen to go to work for Hitler in a radio speech tonight in which he announced an agreement for a levy upon each factory "which will be obliged to furnish a certain number of workmen."

The Vichy Chief of Government said this was agreed upon by his Government "out of apprehension lest measures of contraint be applied to France."

An hour after Laval completed his speech, Gen. Charles de Gaulle, Fighting French leader, told the French people in a London broadcast they are proving by their resistance that they are "engaged in a revolt against the treasonable leaders of Vichy." De Gaulle urged still greater resistance to Laval and his collaboration clique.

Although Laval left open the technical question of whether he would order forced labor conscription, seasoned French observers in Berne, Switzerland, considered his speech as preparation for conscription since it is not expected to yield the 150,000 volunteer workers demanded by Hitler.

Laval told his listeners that his Government is "resolved not to tolerate resistance to this appeal that workers go to Germany despite their love of liberty and of independence."

"The Government must be obeyed," he said.

"The highest interests of France demand that we undertake a policy of entente with Germany," he said. "I am directing the policy of France in such a way that France shall not be the victim of a German victory."

U.S. TAX BILL GREATEST EVER

President Roosevelt to Sign Today, Increasing Excise Levies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (CP).—The biggest tax bill in American history passed Congress today and was sent to President Roosevelt. It would raise $8,700,000,000 in revenue to make [illegible] a total of more than $23,000,000,000 [illegible] since September 1.

Behind the Treasury officials' [illegible] to meet the wartime financial requirements of the United States, the bill will take at least $5,000,000,000 in extra taxes from the American people next year.

The bill [illegible] has two main features. First it raises income taxes to the highest point in American history. Second, it provides for a new "victory tax" [illegible] at a flat rate of 5 per cent on all incomes above $12 a week, with a part of the tax to be refunded after the war and deductions for debt payments, insurance premiums and any local purchases.

Stratosphere Dive Latest

BOSTON, Oct. 20 (AP).—A parachute capable of "delayed action" opening 300 feet from the earth in a plunge from the stratosphere has been designed by A. Leo Stevens, aeronautics pioneer, The Boston Traveler said today. The paper, in an article approved by the Army Bureau of Public Relations, quoted Ward R. Boland, an associate of Stevens, as saying that the 'chute is "fully automatic and can be used to land supplies as well as men."

Conspiracy Trial In Assize Court

Joseph Arthur Walsh and Leonard James Simmons Before Mr. Justice Sidney Smith at Sessions Being Held Here

TRIAL of Joseph Arthur Walsh and Leonard James Simmons opened before Mr. Justice Sidney Smith at the Fall Assizes in the Courthouse yesterday and will be resumed at 11 o'clock this morning. W. C. Moresby, K.C., and J. B. Clearihue, K.C., appear for the Crown. Joseph McKenna represents Walsh, and Patrick J. Sinnott is defending Simmons.

Sheriff Duncan MacBride informed all jurymen not empaneled in the case that they were excused until 11 o'clock next Monday morning.

Walsh and Simmons are charged that between March 1, 1938, and December 15, 1941, they did unlawfully conspire with William Cathcart Co., Ltd., to present false invoices for boots and shoes and obtain money in payment thereof from the Provincial Government.

Simmons appeared in court in army uniform, bearing colors for previous service in the Great War and on Indian frontiers.

IDENTIFIES ACCUSED

Wilfred L. Llewelyn, the first Crown witness at the trial, stated he was deputy registrar of companies for British Columbia. He identified Walsh as managing director of William Cathcart Co., Ltd.

When cross-examined by Mr. Sinnott, the witness produced an annual report of the Victoria J.B.A.A., Ltd., dated April 17, 1942, and signed by Arthur E. Cox, secretary. He said the organization was capitalized at $30,000 with a registered office at 418 Central Building, but preferred shares were not segregated on the report as they should have been. Mr. Llewelyn also exhibited a 1935 report of the J.B.A.A. Property Association, which showed Cox was secretary and the registered office at 418 Central Building. He said the association had been struck off company records.

Francis H. Harrison, purchasing agent for the Provincial Government since October 21, 1940, testified the usual procedure was to call for Provincial Police boot quotations from William Cathcart Co., Ltd., and James Maynard, Ltd., and then award a contract to the lowest tenderer.

EXPLAINS CONTRACTS

Harrison stated the Cathcart Company secured a contract for high and low boots from 1938 to 1939; the Maynard Company for high and low boots from 1939 to 1940; the Maynard Company for high boots and the Cathcart Company for low boots from 1940 to 1941, and the Cathcart Company for high boots and the Maynard Company for low boots from 1941 to 1942. He said his responsibility was to select the company to secure the business and establish the unit price.

Mr. Sinnott asked Harrison by whom he was guided in selection of the two companies. The witness answered he was guided by precedent in his office and suggestions from the police department.

When asked if any other firms had tendered, he replied King's Shoe Store on April 1, 1935, and Woodward's, Ltd., for the fiscal year 1940 to 1941.

"Is it a fact you were subjected to outside interference in awarding boot and shoe contracts?" Mr. Sinnott inquired. "It is not a fact. There was no interference whatsoever," Harrison replied.

REFERS TO INQUIRY

"At the departmental inquiry do you recall saying, 'There was no interference. I have conscientiously tried to break it down and my records show it.' With what success?" Mr. Sinnott asked. "With partial success," Harrison answered.

"Do you recall saying at the inquiry that you discussed the matter with Arthur H. Cox, who you said more or less represented the consolidated thoughts of Liberals in this constituency?" Mr. Sinnott wanted to know. "I do not recall it, but I do not deny it," Harrison answered. "Do you recollect Cox saying, 'Here, these are pretty good people. I would like them to get some business.'" Mr. Sinnott asked. "That may have referred to general business," Harrison replied. He then denied an implication that Cox had told him where to place orders.

Then the following cross-examination took place:

COX RECEIVES LISTS

A.—I gave him one or two lists. It has been customary. I looked on him as a representative of the Government and treated him with the same courtesy and deference as a member of Parliament.

Q.—Why did you treat him as a member of Parliament?

A.—Because he represents the members of Parliament of the city of Victoria by custom. It has always been done. The lists contained rough figures and names of merchants doing business with the Government in the province. My secretary told me it had been a custom of twenty years to provide such lists.

Q.—Did you instruct Constable Robert H. Leonard to send a carton of high boots to Sumas Prairie farmers on the Mainland?

A.—Simmons pointed to a pile of condemned clothing he wanted to burn. I sent it to needy farmers. They were taken to the Mainland by Moore, a clerk in the Public Works Department, and delivered to Jack Forbes, sales manager for McKenzie, White & Dunsmuir, Ltd.

IN CHARGE OF HORSES

Q.—Did Forbes have charge of Provincial Police horses?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Is he a poor farmer?

Q.—With Government goods?

Q.—Is it not a fact that you selected contractors irrespective whether they were wholesalers or retailers?

A.—The Provincial Police Quartermaster said he needed retailer service on boots and shoes so he could obtain individual fittings.

During the course of further cross-examination Harrison denied that he ever sent any contractors to see Cox. He stated he had every confidence in Simmons, and he seemed most trustworthy.

When cross-examined by Mr. McKenna, the witness explained 1941-1942 was the only fiscal year in which he had personal knowledge of contracts. Mr. McKenna produced an invoice from James Maynard, Ltd., dated June 16, 1941, for 168 pairs of boots supplied to the quartermaster's stores at $15.40 per pair.

LEATHER INCREASES

Harrison said Simmons told him the price of leather had increased, so he allowed 7 1-2 per cent. He explained it took at least ninety days to close Government books, and in the meantime goods were ordered on estimates of the previous year. He admitted the Maynard Company had no contract for high boots in June, 1941, and the price of $15.40 per pair paid was higher than that of the successful tenderer, the Cathcart Company. Then Mr. McKenna asked:

Q.—The unit price was not correct?

A.—It was ninety cents more.

Q.—And was it passed by your department?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Are you prepared to concede the voucher should not have been passed by your department?

A.—I am not prepared to.

Q.—You were prepared to concede so at the departmental inquiry. Is the passing of that voucher an evidence of weakness in your office?

A.—I thought so at the time of the inquiry, but after an investigation I realized I was buying on a rising market with merchandise becoming scarce. I do not know enough about that particular contract to discuss it intelligently.

COX GIVES ADVICE

Q.—Is it a fact Cox often gave you advice?

A.—Yes.

Q.—Cox came to your office weekly?

A.—It was once or twice a month.

Q.—You said at the inquiry it was on an average of once a week. Did Cox exercise influence in purchases made by your department?

A.—Politically, yes.

Q.—Were shoes shipped on your behalf from quartermaster's stores to Vancouver?

A.—I think there were shoes among some condemned clothing sent from the stores.

Inspector Cecil G. Clark, Provincial Police, identified the signatures of Simmons on Cathcart Company vouchers for shoes and a letter dated October 31, 1941, in which the accused asked for a week's leave of absence because of illness.

Mr. Sinnott asked Inspector Clark to produce a personnel file containing Simmons' record of employment by Provincial Police. Mr. Justice Smith asked the Crown to present it in court this morning.

For obvious reasons he could not say just what reinforcements were in England standing behind the units of the Canadian Army and ready to fill any gaps caused by casualties.

He said the two brigades from which units were drawn for the Dieppe attack were the first he visited. He found both right up to strength, or practically so, after their heavy losses in the Dieppe operation last August.

This communique related the repulse of tank and infantry attacks near a fortified factory, with destruction of seven enemy tanks and the killing of 400 Germans. It told also of a night engagement in which thirteen pilboxes were smashed, ten planes destroyed and more than a company of enemy infantry wiped out.

The tremendous dive-bombing of the last few days, at one time involving 1,500 aircraft over a single narrow sector, died down for a time in the face of blustery and cold rains, but was resumed in full scale with improvement in the weather.

ATTACKS WEAKENING

However, the number of tanks and men which the enemy was throwing into the fighting again was lessening, after a week of the newest assault. Previously, the Germans were capable of sustaining a major push for two to three weeks.

The German High Command claimed that an additional block of houses was occupied in the northern suburbs of Stalingrad, and added that "mopping up activities on the grounds of the gun factory, Red Barricade, continues." The German propaganda agency, Transocean, quoted military quarters as saying the Russians now hold "only a few square kilometres" of Stalingrad, including three key centres of resistance. Paradoxically, the agency added: "The tenacity of Soviet resistance is evidence rather by the number of barricade and other positions obstinately defended by the enemy than by the area of the city not yet in the hands of the Germans."

NIGHT AND DAY RAIDS ON AXIS

flying men to Egypt by plane and glider, a device they have used before to avoid the perils of sea transport.

Both air forces made sorties over the Axis rear in North Africa. Medium United States bombers shot up an enemy landing field, destroying grounded planes with three direct hits and dotting the area with fires, one termed "very large."

SET OFF EXPLOSION

R.A.F. long-range fighters touched off a violent explosion among more than 200 vehicles in the central sector, pounded land convoys along the Sidi Barrani-Matruh road, exploded the locomotive of an Axis-operated train and burned six of the cars.

Out of nine attempts to attack Malta, the Axis made eight with fighter-escorted fighter-bombers and only the last, at dusk, with forty JU-88 bombers. Only three crossed the coast and two were downed. The others jettisoned their bombs.

During the whole of the Monday air fighting, the United States Air Force lost no planes and the R.A.F. only two, with one pilot safe. There were no R.A.F. losses in the defence of Malta.

Found Not Guilty Of Manslaughter

NANAIMO, Oct. 20—Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson, in Assize Court here today, discharged Gordon Stanley Demes, of Alberni, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of John Price, of Alberni, who died of injuries sustained Saturday night, August 22, when a bicycle he was riding on the Alberni Highway, near Lupsey Kupsey Bridge, was in collision with an automobile during heavy traffic.

The jury, after fifteen minutes' deliberation, brought in a verdict of "not guilty." Ten Crown witnesses and two defence witnesses gave evidence at the two-day trial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP).—The Columbia Broadcasting System said tonight Wendell L. Willkie will report on his globe-circling tour of United Nations war fronts over four major United States networks next Monday from 7:30 to 8 p.m., P.D.T.

CAR LINE HERE LOSING MONEY

Yearly Deficit About $25,000 Up to 1939, Vancouver Inquiry Told

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP).—British Columbia Electric Railway Company officials today denied a charge by F. L. Shaw, Victoria city [illegible] that the company had shown "lack of progress in not providing more comfortable street car equipment."

A. E. Grauer, general secretary, and E. H. Adams, vice-president, said the company had tried three times to introduce new equipment but each time had been opposed by the Street Railwaymen's Union and the Vancouver City Council.

Mr. Shaw suggested that the company had taken funds from the street railway reserve in Victoria and invested them elsewhere.

LOSING PROPOSITION

Mr. Grauer replied that for some years past the Victoria street railway has not been making expenses and therefore could not be said to be covering depreciation charges.

From 1935 to 1939, he said, the system had shown an annual deficit of about $25,000.

Asked by Mr. Adams if the gas business, in recent years, had been extended in Vancouver and Victoria, Mr. Grauer replied:

"The gas plant in Victoria is having a fair sum of money spent on it, while the plant in Vancouver is quite up-to-date."

Mr. Shaw asked Mr. Grauer if an unused plant from Vancouver had been sent to Victoria.

Mr. Grauer said this was the case but it was merely an auxiliary unit to carry peak loads.

Mr. Adams explained that the gas plant in Victoria is being completely overhauled and in order to prevent an interruption in the service a plant was sent over from here.

NEW BATTLESHIPS IN BRITISH FLEET

Woodhouse already has had one contact with a crack ship of the German Navy. He commanded the cruiser Ajax in the battle of the River Platte with the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee.

Details of the action in which the Anson already has engaged were few. But it was announced she had tested her armament by firing a dozen rounds and chased a German scout plane away from an important convoy.

Alexander touched upon the importance of the Russian convoy route in declaring that supplies sent to Russia ran "into a tonnage of millions," and that Britain had received "too little credit" for her efforts to help the Soviet Union.

The figure of 530 successful attacks on submarines, he said, included some attacks by United States forces, but none of the Russians or the French before June, 1940.

U-BOAT PROBLEM

Alexander said the U-boat still is "our greatest problem" but United States and British shipbuilding programmes "afford me more grounds for confidence in our final victory at sea over Germany and Japan than any other factor."

Although he praised American ship production, he declared that "having relation to our resources, we still produce more tons of shipping per man than they do with all the modern methods in America."

The claim to 530 submarines sunk or damaged compared with official figures of 216 German U-boats sunk in the first Great War, but experts agree Germany has more submarines operating in this conflict.

The British Information Service in New York said Germany's pre-war submarine strength was placed by Britain at seventy and Italy's at 130, but the Reich attained an output of two submarines a week in the Winter of 1940 and was estimated to have had 400 available for operations at a later time. She is known to have devoted an important part of her industry to submarine building.

SISTER SHIP SUNK

One of the sister ships of the Anson and Howe, the Prince of Wales was sunk with the battle cruiser Repulse in a Japanese air attack off Malaya last December.

The other two of the class, the King George V and the Duke of York, have been with the fleet for some time.

The class of five had been under construction approximately five years. Originally the Anson and the Howe, named after British naval figures, were to have been named the Jellicoe and the Beatty, after two first Great War admirals, but their names were changed in 1940.

Starting the war with fifteen battleships and battle cruisers, Britain has lost five—the Royal Oak, Hood, Barham, Repulse and Prince of Wales—and built five new ones.

In addition she is building at least four others, including the Lion and Temeraire, which are larger than the King George V Class. These are listed at 40,000 tons.

CARRY FOUR AIRCRAFT

The Admiralty's announcement said the two new capital ships, "carry four aircraft each, and their design incorporates enhanced defence against air attack."

Their armament consists of ten fourteen-inch guns which are claimed to have an effective range greater than the fifteen-inch guns of earlier ships, as well as batteries of many smaller guns.

The armor belt is reported sixteen inches thick at the water line. The increased protection against air attack is reported to include heavy deck armor and elaborate subdivision of the interior.

TO SHARE IN A.R.P. COSTS

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP).—Hon. R. J. Manion, director of Civil Air Raid Precautions, said today agreements are being entered into with the provinces which have been declared subject to air attack, under which financial assistance will be given to them by the Dominion for A.R.P. activities.

Dr. Manion said no details of the amounts involved can be announced here yet, but that the provinces affected have indicated willingness to enter into agreements by which the Dominion will bear a part of their A.R.P. expenditures.

Dr. Manion said the assistance is being worked out on a per capita basis, with the numbers of people in the areas considered liable to enemy attack taken into account.

These areas are in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and British Columbia.

Apart from this financial assistance, the Dominion will provide A.R.P. equipment as in the past, with fire fighting and other supplies made available as rapidly as possible in areas of greatest risk, Dr. Manion said.

Claim Town Recaptured

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), Oct. 20 (AP).—German and Croatian troops have recaptured the Croatian town of Jajce, about thirty miles south of Benjaluka, killing 500 Serbians, informed quarters claimed tonight.

The town was occupied recently when numerically superior Serbian forces attacked it, forcing the Croatian guardsmen to withdraw.

further landings on Guadalcanal.

Besides the raids on the Japanese on Guadalcanal, army Flying Fortresses returned to the attack on October 19 on Rekata Bay, Santa Isabel Island, 150 miles northwest of Guadalcanal. Fires were started by bombs from the big planes.

Far to the north, in the Aleutians, the communique added, army Liberator bombers struck again at shore installations and a beached ship in the harbor at Kiska, starting fires in the Japanese camp area.

JAPANESE HOLD BACK

Concerning the struggle in the Solomons, Navy Secretary Frank Knox told reporters that "in my judgment, the Japanese have by no means as yet exercised their main force."

Knox did not elaborate, but he said "it is still a good stiff fight" and news from the battle area is being made public as quickly as received in Washington.

All branches of American armed forces now have joined in the struggle for control of the archipelago which can command shipping lanes to Australia. Warships of the United States Fleet were the latest to move into the fight. They have hurled heavy shells on Japanese shore installations and munition dumps.

PROSECUTION OF JEWS HAS CREATED SERIOUS PROBLEM, SAYS RABBI

The persecution of the Jews, which has extended down through the centuries in many lands and which has now reached new heights of ferocity under Hitler's regime in the conquered countries of Europe, has created a problem described by Rabbi Ephraim M. Levy, of the Emanu-el Jewish Synagogue of Victoria, as "the world's greatest peril."

It is a problem, the rabbi said in an address before the Kiwanis Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday, for which a solution must be found if the world is to go forward in harmony after the end of the war.

There is evidence of persecution of the Jewish people closer to home than Europe, the speaker charged, in describing instances of discrimination in Eastern Canada. He instanced as an example the refusal of a landlord to rent a house in an Eastern city when it was learned that the prospective tenant was a Jew. So far, he said, the Jews have not been discriminated against in this fashion in the West.

Dieppe "Picnic" for Airman After Malta

Flight Lieutenant Finds Italians More Gallant Than Germans, Looking on War as Game — Says Nazis Shoot Flyers Parachuting From Planes

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP).—After five months in Malta, the air side of the battle of Dieppe was a picnic to Flt. Lt. R. W. (Buck) McNair, of North Battleford, Sask. "I got along fine at Dieppe," the twenty-three-year-old veteran of [illegible] of the toughest air fighting of the present war said today when he talked to Ottawa newspapermen at a press conference. "I enjoyed it very much."

Flt. Lt. McNair flew a Spitfire with one of the squadrons which provided air support for Canadian troops who landed on French soil for nine hours last August 19. At Malta he won the Distinguished Flying Cross and now he is back in Canada on a holiday.

He hopes to visit his family in North Battleford next week and get back to the war in a month or so. After tasting fighting from Malta and Britain he wants to try the Middle East next time.

TO HELP LOAN DRIVE

Before he gets home to North Battleford for his leave he will probably be drafted to visit his native Nova Scotia to help with the Victory Loan drive. He said today he hopes the loan goes over the objective because he knows from experience that it gives men overseas a lift to hear that Canadians at home have made another loan a success.

Two emergency airdromes were marked out at Dieppe for the use of Canadian and British pilots who might get into trouble during the battle, Flt. Lt. McNair said. One was the race track back of the town and the other a level piece of ground to the left of the town, near Puits.

The airmen were ordered to make a forced landing if necessary, at one of these points, blow up their aircraft and join the troops.

At least one airman that he knew of made such a landing and got back to England with the Canadian ground forces. He said he believes P.O. Paris Eakins, of Winnipeg, former Winnipeg Free Press sports writer, who recently was reported missing, attempted to land at the Puits landing spot after the radiator of his plane was shot away by a German cannon shell.

KILLED OR PRISONER

As the Canadian troops never obtained control of that area, Flt. Lt. McNair added, he thinks Eakins was either killed or taken prisoner on his landing.

"The Germans are great fighters but the Italians are not so hot," was the way McNair sized up the two air forces which attacked Malta. Actually, most of the bombing of Malta had been done by the Germans although the Italians came over at one stage and bombed from 23,000 feet whereas "the old Hun used to come down and brush the treetops."

"The Italians are good flyers but they are not good fighters," he said, "but the Huns are absolute wizard fighters. They are sure good."

The Italians were more gallant than the Germans. They seemed to look on the war as a game and tried to play it according to the rules and like gentlemen. The Germans would do anything to win.

"The Huns will shoot a man after he bails out of his plane but the Italians never do that," he remarked.

Before joining the air force McNair, born at Springfield, N.S., the son of railway conductor, worked for Canadian Airways and flew as a radio operator in planes operating from Prince Albert and Edmonton.

MACLEAN'S EDITOR TO SPEAK ON BRITAIN

One of a party of editors and writers who were flown over by bomber to visit the Canadian army and air force in Britain, H. Napier Moore, editor of Maclean's magazine, arrived in time to meet the troops arriving from Dieppe. He will "Report From Britain" at a Men's Canadian Club luncheon here on Tuesday, October 27, and will address the Women's Canadian Club at 2:15 p.m. the same day.

From his visits to the British Navy, interview with Churchill, and association with Canadian fighter squadrons, bombers and units in the field, Mr. Moore will draw a picture which will have his close studies of international economy as a background.

ASTRONOMICAL LECTURE

"The Size of the Universe" will be the title of the opening lecture of the Fall programme of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada at Victoria College at 8 o'clock this evening. The speaker will be Dr. R. M. Petrie of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, and the meeting is open to the public.

CEREMONY OPENS SAANICH DRIVE

An impressive ceremony at the Memorial Park marked the opening of the Victory Loan drive in North Saanich Monday in the drive for $100,000, its share in the unit quota of $837,000.

Prior to the unfurling of the Victory Loan Flag the Pipe Band of the Edmonton Fusiliers played inspiring selections and gave a demonstration of slow marching.

The color party attending consisted of King's Scouts from the Sidney Troop under command of Assistant Commissioner Freeman-King. The flag was hoisted to the roll of the Fusiliers' drums, and was witnessed by many citizens and a large group of local school children, who, after the ceremony, marched back to school bearing Victory Loan posters and led by the Fusiliers Pipe Band.

F. J. Baker, chairman, J. J. White, and other members of the local committee attended. Major G. S. Yardley, unit organizer, represented the Saanich-Gulf Islands organization.

SOUTH SAANICH

At Royal Oak, South Saanich, sub-unit of the Saanich-Gulf Islands unit, opened the Third Victory Loan drive by unfurling the Victory Flag over the Municipal Hall.

H. C. Oldfield, chairman of the South Saanich Citizens Committee, hoisted the flag into position, where it will remain throughout the drive.

Present at the ceremony were citizens of the municipality and members of the local War Finance Committee, Roulin Cran representing the Saanich-Gulf Islands unit.

MAINLAND MAN KILLED IN FALL

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP).—James Taylor, fifty-three, an inspector for the Vancouver fire warden's office, was killed late today when he fell fifty-five feet from the Canadian National Steamships pier here.

Police said Taylor's back apparently was broken when he struck a fender log. A Canadian National constable threw a life preserver from the pier and then jumped into the water. He held Taylor's head out of the water until city police arrived.

FORMER HOTEL FOUND FIT FOR OCCUPANCY

The old James Bay Hotel, now St. Mary's Guest House, complies with all city regulations, according to a report submitted yesterday by the city fire chief, assistant building inspector, relief officer and sanitary inspector.

The investigation made by the men followed an application of the Society of the Love of Jesus, operators of the home, made to the Department of the Provincial Secretary. Before granting a licence under the Welfare Institutions Licensing Act, the city's approval was requested. This was recommended by the inspectors' report.

ADMIRAL TO ATTEND VETERANS' SMOKER

A smoker will be held by the Naval Veterans tonight, when it is expected that Hon. A. L. Macdonald, Vice-Admiral P. W. Nelles, accompanied by local R.C.N. officers, will attend, probably about 8.30 p.m.

SAANICH LIBERALS

The annual meeting of the Saanich Liberal Association will be held at St. Mark's Hall, Boleskine Road, Saanich, on Friday at 8 p.m. Hon. H. G. Perry, Minister of Education, will be the guest speaker. All Liberals are asked to attend, whether members of the association or not.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP).—Once one of Hollywood's most glamorous stars, Pola Negri testified in Supreme Court today that she now is living on the money and charity of friends. Replying to an action brought by a hotel which seeks to attach $2,500 still due her from The American Weekly, Inc., for her memoirs, Miss Negri said she had not earned "one cent" since she made a picture in Berlin in 1938.

LOAN DRIVE STARTS WELL

First Day's Sales $52,614,000, Nearly $11,000,000 Above Average

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP)—Victory Loan national headquarters announced tonight that Sherbrooke, Que., and Saint John, N.B., are in the forefront of larger municipalities reporting progress in meeting their quotas in the drive for $750,000,000 in three weeks.

Sherbrooke had reached 23 per cent of its quota and Saint John 19 per cent.

Sydney, N.S., and Moncton, N.B., were next, each with 14 per cent; Calgary had 11 per cent and Edmonton 9 per cent.

Earlier the Third Victory Loan headquarters announced that total subscriptions at the close of the first day of the campaign, Monday, were $52,614,000, almost $11,000,000 above the average subscriptions of $41,700,000 needed daily in the eighteen working days of the drive if the objective is to be won.

TOPS LAST LOAN

The first day of the Second Victory Loan last February yielded $51,334,000.

The response from factory workers resulted in five Ontario plants exceeding their quota within less than twenty-four hours after the opening of the canvass. All five sent in requisitions for plant honor certificates under the payroll savings plan.

In Ottawa, one Government agency, the Foreign Exchange Control Board, reached 68 per cent of its quota today.

Realistic military operations were staged to drive home to Canadians the need of supporting the loan. Kitchener, Ont., was subjected to a mock aerial bombardment as four airplanes throbbed overhead dropping flares last night. A proclamation by the mayor warned "nervous" citizens to stay indoors as soldiers patrolled the streets. Newspaper pictures today showed what would have happened to Kitchener had the flares been bombs.

MOCK INVASION

Regina underwent a mock invasion as paratroops, representing an enemy invasion force, entered the downtown section of the city at noon and provided a realistic portrayal of actual war conditions. They were met and repulsed by Canadian troops.

Highlight of the Regina "battle" was an attempt by the "enemy" to hang Premier Patterson and Mayor C. C. Williams, both veterans of the first Great War, from a tree in front of the City Hall.

To demonstrate the costs of equipping a modern army, five military convoys are visiting Saskatchewan centres, each a complete battle unit with the prices marked on the equipment.

At Hanna, Alta., the mother of Pte. Jack Wylie, now overseas, received a cable asking her to buy a bond for him.

The personnel of a West Coast Royal Canadian Air Force station had subscribed $9,000 to the campaign, $2,000 more than their set quota, loan headquarters said.

LOAN REPORTS ENCOURAGING

Fitzroy George, organizer for the Esquimalt unit, said, "The whole tenor of the campaign is more of a front line proposition. People are better informed as to the reasons for the loan and in their participation are demonstrating the appreciation of the seriousness of the conflict."

BEHIND CAMPAIGN

Saanich and Gulf Islands returns, while also incomplete, reflected that the people in this area are also one hundred per cent behind the campaign.

Progress of the campaign at going to press was as follows:

	Objective	Returns
Victoria	$6,530,000	$2,016,800
Oak Bay	1,085,000	33,400
Saanich-Gulf Islands	835,000	48,900
Esquimalt	430,000	11,300
Alberni	340,000	37,250
Nanaimo	500,000	44,750
Duncan-Cowichan	750,000	31,400
Courtenay-Comox	300,000	17,700
Total	$12,750,000	$2,284,100

The Alberni Plywood Company's return from an incomplete canvass has already exceeded its $10,000 objective. This from an organization where 241 out of the 300 employees are women; the response of many of whom comes from anxiety to stand behind the husbands, sons and brothers they are replacing. At Sproat Lake the objective has also been overtaken already.

SERVICES RESPOND

Just how the services are responding is reflected in a return from an Island air base where the hoped for ten thousand dollar quota was reached the first day.

Not included in the campaign total, but forwarded to the Receiver-General of Canada by W. P. Bowden, organized for the Nanaimo unit, was a bank money order for five dollars. "This money was handed into this office with a request that it be given outright to the Government. The donor was a workingman and he told me it was half the money he had. He did not wish to purchase a War Savings Certificate, but wanted it to be an outright donation for the war effort. He refused to give his name."

With these encouragements, the scores of workers, who have for the period of the drive given up their own work, will start out again this morning to give everyone equal opportunity of sharing in the task of financing victory and thwarting inflation. They hope to complete their work by November 7.

Dieppe Hero "Hank" Rowe Welcomed

Victoria-born Gunner Henry John (Hank) Rowe, awarded the Military Medal for heroism at Dieppe, came home yesterday and was tendered a welcome that equaled in fervor that accorded the Saarbruecken airmen on their recent visit to Victoria. He arrived on the afternoon boat from Vancouver, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rowe, 1426 Camosun Street, and his brother and sister.

Gunner Rowe reached Vancouver from Eastern Canada yesterday

proudly escorted by his father and mother, who had gone to Vancouver to meet their son, advanced to the big, black flag-draped car waiting at the curb. Here Gunner Rowe was welcomed by Acting Mayor Archie Wills and other civic officials. Escorted by the Garrison Band, the party left for the City Hall and the presentation ceremony to take place there. Automobiles fell into line and cheering pedestrians kept pace along the sidewalks.

The band in the lead, marching smartly to the stirring strains of the "British Grenadiers," the procession arrived at the civic centre, pushing through packed crowds and circling the City Hall to draw up at the entrance from the south.

"There he is, that's Hank!" came the cries from all sides as Alderman Wills escorted young Rowe, his father and mother, across the sidewalk and into the building. Hands shot out from everywhere and Hank had an enthusiastic greeting and friendly word for all.

SIGNS VISITORS' BOOK

The presentation took place in the council chamber and when it was over, in a matter of minutes, young Rowe signed the Distinguished Visitors' Book. He did this carefully, pausing midway to look up for photographers.

"I guess that's all," he said with his slow smile, as he laid down the pen, and with another handshake here and there walked over to his parents.

Alderman Wills, on behalf of Mayor Andrew McGavin who was absent in Vancouver, escorted Gunner Rowe into the Council Chamber and introduced him to the small gathering.

"My first remarks," said the acting mayor, "are to express the city's happiness in having Gunner Henry "Hank" Rowe back with us again and in good condition and health." Then turning to the young veteran the alderman said: "Hank, you come back home as the hero of Dieppe. Your many friends and the citizens of Victoria are very proud of you."

OTHER VICTORIANS HEROES

He recalled having known Gunner Rowe since he was a boy. Touching briefly on his school years, the alderman recalled that he had always been a standout in sports. He praised those other two Victorians high in the list of decorations awarded for gallantry at Dieppe—Lieut.-Col. Arthur H. Fraser and Major Earl J. McRae—each awarded the Distinguished Service Order.

While the city rejoiced in Gunner Rowe's safe return, it was particularly auspicious at this time, the alderman said, in that it coincided with the Third Victory Loan campaign, and he promised that the young veteran would be making personal appearances to give impetus to the drive.

"Our best wishes, Hank," he added, "and the best of luck to you."

He then read Gunner Rowe's citation, ending with the paragraph which stated: "This soldier's gallantry and devotion to duty were an inspiration to his comrades."

Gunner Rowe sat quietly at Alderman Wills' side, and a thoughtful, almost sad, expression crept over his face when the speaker referred to those comrades in the raid who had not returned. He was smiling and nonchalant most of the time, and his closest approach to nervousness seemed when the citation was being read. Then he slowly rubbed his hand along his thighs, smoothing out the wrinkles from his worn and slightly soiled tunic.

HAS LITTLE TO SAY

All he said when Alderman Wills presented the city's medallion was: "Thank you." Then he sat down again.

Members of the City Council and of his immediate family were among those present at the ceremony and at the civic dinner tendered the young hero in the evening.

Guests invited to the dinner were: Gunner Rowe's parents, his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rowe; his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carroll; Mrs. Andrew McGavin and her son, Robert; Alderman and Mrs. Wills, Alderman and Mrs. Edward Williams, Alderman and Mrs. W. L. Morgan, Alderman and Mrs. J. A. Worthington, Alderman and Mrs. B. J. Gadsden, Alderman and Mrs. W. H. Davies, Alderman and Mrs. D. D. McTavish, Alderman and Mrs. P. E. George, Alderman and Mrs. F. A. Willis, Alderman T. W. C. Hawkins and M. F. Hunter, city clerk.

GUNNER ROWE PRAISES NAVY

Victoria Boy Says Naval Men Were "Tops" At Dieppe

"If it wasn't for the Royal Navy I wouldn't be here. I'm telling you the navy's the tops."

That's what Gunner "Hank" Rowe told [illegible] view aboard the Canadian Pacific ferry ship that brought him to Victoria to receive the acclaim of the citizens. Hank, or Henry as his mother calls him, was just like any other boy who had been overseas to "do his bit."

He didn't want to talk about Dieppe. He wanted to talk about things that were nearer to home. He wanted to know about his pals—boys of the Dominoes, the J.B.A.A., the Blue Bombers and some of the fellows he left behind in England. He wanted to meet the "old gang around the corner."

For once in his life Hank was afraid. He admitted it. It wasn't at Dieppe. It was coming home. He didn't mind the enfilade of machine-gunfire on the beach of Dieppe; he was really nervous about the reception. Several times during the interview he turned to "mom" and asked: "What shall I say?" Dad interrupted: "Just be yourself, son."

WEARS VETERAN'S RIBBON

Gunner Rowe, who now wears the Military Medal, was particularly happy about that strip of red, white and blue, because, he said, the ribbon on his uniform was worn by a veteran of the Great War. Gunner Rowe went to the tailor to have his uniform pressed an cleaned, and the tailor insisted on sewing on the ribbon. Gunner Rowe also has a button given to him by a Russian soldier.

Asked about the Dieppe raid, Gunner Rowe was somewhat reticent. He said it was a good show and the objectives were obtained. He said a little about being thrown into the water and later rescued "by a lieutenant of the Royal Navy."

"The only thing I forgot when they hailed me on board was to salute, but those chaps don't mind about that. If you are ever in a tight spot, count on the navy. But I must not overlook the air force. They gave us all the protection possible and they put on a grand show."

Hank has a scar just below the right ear. He's proud of it. He has a nick on his chest where a bullet whizzed by, missing him by inches. He has a slight arm wound, but believes he "can still play tennis."

READY TO GO BACK

"Would you go back again?" he was asked. He hesitated for a moment and then replied: "Yes, if it was only to be with the boys that went over with me." Then wistfully: "I wish they were here with me now, but this is war and we must all realize that we are in this fight to the end. There must be no half-measures. Jerry is a tough man to beat and we must all shoulder a share of the burden."

Gunner Rowe had nothing but the highest praise for the Canadian surgeons serving the forces in England. "It's not often you have a chance to see those men in actual service, but I can say that the Canadian boys over there are getting the very best of treatment. The doctors are most considerate, even with the slightest of ailments. You can trust those men who have left their practices in Canada to do all in their power to aid our boys over there."

Food in England? "For a while it was not so good, but latterly the boys had all they wanted of good, wholesome food. There was nothing fancy about it and sometimes you thought of home and pies, but you get over that and just eat."

"Oh, Henry," his mother interrupted, "how about a good sirloin steak right now?"

"No, mom, I'm going to wait till I get home and then I'll have one with you."

Hank is a six-footer. His sister, Doris, if five feet eight inches. "Mom" is a little over five feet five, and "Dad," a North Countryman and proud of it, is about five feet six inches. Hank's nephew, Bryant, is three years old, and Walter, Hank's brother, is also close to six feet. All in all, the family party, aboard ship was a genuine reunion.

HAS WRITTEN POEM

There were toasts to the King, Her Majesty and to the boys of the regiments, and a special one from Hank. His was to the Royal Navy. He wrote a poem and it may be printed some day.

Was he happy to be home again? Hank said "Yes," but he's going back again after his leave is over. He wants to be with his buddies. "There is something that gets into you and you can't get away from it. Those Canadian boys would give you their last nickel and I feel the same way. It's going to be fun being home, but I shall miss the boys around the old canteen, on parade—and perhaps in the guardhouse."

This is a little sidelight. Hank had never smoked. "Mom" was really shocked when she saw Henry rolling a cigarette and actually smoking it. "Mom's" only remark was: "Oh, this war."

LAVAL SAYS MUST SEND NAZIS HELP

He added that such a victory was inevitable.

LAWS OF WAR

Germany had the right to take workers from France, Laval went on, "because these are the laws of war." Hitler's pause had to be supported, "because I am telling the truth—that if Germany were beaten, the Soviets would tomorrow make the laws of Europe."

Laval hinted he would soon make a declaration about France's African colonies which the Germans insist are being threatened by the Allies.

In a brief reference to his subject, the French Chief of Government said:

"I am thinking—thinking a lot—of the French Empire. We shall speak again of that another day."

Dispatches from both France and Germany in recent days have indicated this problem is worrying Laval almost as much as his difficulties in getting French workers to go to Germany to work in Hitler's war industries.

BERLIN PRESSING

This worry is being increased by the great emphasis which Berlin is placing on the reported landing of United States troops in Liberia and other West African bases.

A German spokesman, quoted by the Swiss press, said the French "naturally" are greatly concerned over the extension of "political and military zones of influence of the United States," which, he said, obviously was aimed at France.

Diplomatic observers here regarded this as a part of the German campaign to justify sending German troops to French colonies, such as Dakar, to help the French "protect" them.

Workers in Lyon were reported ready to strike again if Laval persisted in trying to force workers to go to Germany.

The Berlin radio broadcast Tuesday a dispatch, with a Vichy date line, purporting to show that Laval was interested in restoration of the monarchy in France. The dispatch said Laval had conferred two months ago with the French pretender, the Count of Paris. Berlin's purpose in broadcasting this story is obscure. It might be to discredit Laval who has been reported losing favor with his Nazi friends.

FREEDOM MUST BE FOUGHT FOR . . . AND PAID FOR

• Supreme Courage and Fortitude were characteristics of those sturdy pioneers who braved the perils of the deep, the dangers and hardships of the wilderness, to lay the foundations of a nation dedicated to freedom. Their sons and daughters have proved worthy custodians of the precious heritage and have built a Canada of which we may well be proud. And now this freedom must be fought for—and paid for. Our freedom . . . our very lives . . . are in the keeping of our armed forces who have gone forth to battle a foe who would destroy all that we hold dear.

Nothing that we can do can equal their sacrifice. But we must back them to the limit . . . WORK harder than ever before . . . SAVE every cent possible, by going without everything not absolutely necessary . . . LEND every dollar to buy the planes, the guns, the tanks, the ships they need to give them every advantage in their fight to keep Canada a free nation.

CANADA'S NAVAL COLLEGE

Canada's new Naval College will be commissioned today at Esquimalt, as a permanent institution from which much may be expected in years to come. It is entirely fitting that the institution to be opened by Hon. Angus Macdonald, Minister of Naval Affairs, attended by Vice-Admiral P. W. Nelles, R.C.N., will stand on ground overlooking the historic port of Esquimalt; once a Royal Naval base, and now the main base in the West of Canada's growing navy.

What the Royal Military College at Kingston has been to the army in Canada, and that has been much, the Royal Canadian Naval College at Esquimalt will be to the silent service. Almost instinctively one asks when Canada's Air College will join their ranks? Today, however, is historic for the Royal Canadian Navy; and, from Halifax to Victoria, there will be satisfaction at seeing this new step being taken, and on a permanent basis.

Appearing elsewhere in these columns is an appreciation of how Canada's Naval College will be regarded in the Motherland, and that is at its full worth. It is by the sea that the British Commonwealth of Nations has grown to that position which it occupies in the world today. It is by the sea that trade will one day resume about the oceans of the world. On the sea, Canada has a ripe future before her. To the staff officers of the new institution will go out the sincere good wishes of the people of Canada.

It is a time, perhaps, to assess what Canada has been able to accomplish in naval affairs since the start of the war. Much of the actual work has been out of sight of the public, and, so, is little enough known.

It is from the "Mothership of Nations" that has come the warmest acknowledgment of this service, expressed in terms of convoy duty, active sea patrols, participation in home and foreign waters, and all that goes into three years under fire.

Naturally, Canada is proud of her men at sea. Both overseas and at home they are carrying forward a splendid tradition; and the service thus rendered has left little to be desired. Already, Canadian naval tradition is lengthening, and nowhere more brightly than in the conduct of the officers and men who are afloat. What the new Naval College will mean to them may easily be estimated; and from this institution will come the officers of the future.

So it is that the commissioning of the Royal Canadian Naval College at Esquimalt today links in with a very bright past, and points as brightly forward to a long and distinguished future. Esquimalt has been a name to conjure with for many a day, and now Esquimalt will have an added meaning. Victoria will wish for the new institution all that its staff could wish for its career, and as much more as it may please a future bright with hope and promise to bring to fruition within its spacious halls. One hundred and thirty-seven years ago today Trafalgar was fought.

TIME PURCHASE PLAN

Members of the public not accustomed to debenture investments may find in the instalment-purchase plan an easier road to investing in Canada's Third Victory Loan than may offhand be imagined. As little as five dollars will start anyone on the way towards owning a bond; and a bond, once acquired, is much more tightly held than would be its equivalent value in currency. The first bond is the first egg in the nest, and like all first-eggs it quickly attracts others.

Of the two issues now before the public, the three per cent loan maturing in 1956 will be that in most favor with the individual investor. Its bonds are in the denominations of $50, $100, $1,000 and up; with both bearer bonds and also those fully registered. A bearer bond, of course, is instantly negotiable, and its ownership can change hands many times over. A bond registered as to principal or interest, or both, can be transferred with almost as little delay; and is protected, meanwhile, against loss by theft or fire.

The feature that will appeal to many first investors, however, is the comparative ease with which a first bond can be taken up. A $50 bearer bond can be held by an initial down payment of $5, or ten per cent of the bond. Then, in monthly instalments eighteen per cent can be subscribed as month succeeds month. On the fifth month of savings there is a very small addition on top of the eighteen per cent contribution; and then the first bond is in the full possession of the purchaser. At once it begins to work for its owner, with interest payments twice yearly.

The same thing applies to larger denominations, and for each of them there is an instalment method of buying that may suit those who have not all of the cash immediately on hand. A $100 bond can be started with as little as $10 down in a first payment; and $18 monthly thereafter, until ownership is secured. Through the banks, or through any Victory Loan agency these plans may be examined, and will be explained readily to all who wish to make independent inquiry for themselves. Too often, however, people think of bonds as "high finance," and do not understand how readily they may be purchased in fact.

As to the worth of a bond, all Canada is the correct answer. Each security bears its pledge on its face, and that is the promise of this land to find the money to recompense the lender when the security is due. Before that, at any day for that matter, a bond is negotiable, and may be sold for cash. If it is held to its full maturity, the three per cent issue will return $101 for each $100 loaned; having paid three dollars a year interest meanwhile, in semi-annual dividends.

It is the course of wisdom, as well as that most helpful to Canada at this time, to examine the Third Victory Loan programme seriously. There are very few people who cannot take on a bond, if that is their wish. Bonds, like all other forms of savings, tend to increase themselves; mainly because men do not often turn back from a fixed programme of savings once they have spurred themselves on to start it. If the public could see this money laid out in its war-tools the object of the whole drive would instantly be clear. A Victory Loan is one case where everyone stands to gain; and none to lose, unless, indeed, it be the enemy.

GUNNER ROWE, M.M.

Victoria City gave a spirited welcome yesterday to Gunner Henry J. Rowe—"Hank" to his friends. There was a welcome at the dockside, a reception at the City Hall, and at night a civic dinner. In this, Victoria [illegible] alone to one of its own sons, and one who was awarded the Military Medal in the field, but to all of the gallant men who fought for Canada at Dieppe. And Dieppe was the Army's show.

It is interesting now to recall the actual citation for which Victoria's well-known athlete was decorated. It read as follows:

"Gunner Rowe was one of a party of two officers and twenty-four other ranks detailed to accompany the Royal Regiment of Canada for the purpose of capturing and bringing back to England two special anti-aircraft guns. Necessity, however, forced this party to join with the Royal Regiment in an infantry role and fight it out on the beaches.

"In spite of the fact that the enemy had turned back repeated attempts to scale the heights, Gunner Rowe, already wounded, volunteered to accompany a party of approximately ten men, under a corporal of the Royal Regiment of Canada, in a last desperate attempt. The attempt failed, four of the party were killed, and Gunner Rowe was again wounded. Gunner Rowe later reached an upturned boat, and clung to it for approximately two hours until rescued by a torpedo boat."

There is the citation, one that speaks for itself. There may be other Dieppes in this conflict; but we know now, if we have not always known it, that Canada's men will play a real part in the field. In welcoming Gunner Henry J. Rowe, M.M., Victoria was thinking also of the many who stood up for Canada that day under an intense and galling fire. It is a debt that will live in the heart.

COST-PLUS MINING

British Columbia has yet to experience its first trial of cost-plus mining in the base-metal camps. Under an arrangement now announced from Ottawa, Vancouver Island and other copper properties are to be opened in an arrangement made by the Dominion metals controller. It is the description of the scheme as on a "cost-plus" basis that holds the attention. Often in the past there has been a good deal of "cost" in government contracts carried out in that manner.

With metals, however, it may be different. In this instance a reputable mining organization is to be placed in charge, and the copper is really needed. Presumably safeguards will be devised whereby the cost will be a reasonable one; otherwise it would not pay to take the copper out of the ground. It remains a pity, however, that such a name should have been given to the covering scheme. A bonus for production from marginal properties might have worked as well, and there the accent would be on the production, and not upon the cost.

When the full details are known, however, it may be found that this has been weighed, and taken into account. For Vancouver Island, the fact that additional properties are to be brought back into production is good news. Base metals are needed, and copper is vital to the manufacture of munitions. Ordinarily this development would come when copper prices made such work possible, but today we cannot always wait for that. The metal is needed, while prices largely are pegged. The details of the present plan will be awaiteo with interest.

HIGHWAY TO NORTH

Opening of the Alaska Highway, 1,630 miles from Canadian territory into Alaska, late in November, will be an event in the history of this continent. Pilot cars are to make the test run then over the new route to the northwest, between Dawson Creek and Fairbanks, via Whitehorse. Theoretically at least, a motor route will have been opened across the whole of North America.

While British Columbia links with that route are still in embryo, one day they will come, as a community of interests will demand that. Already, the Peace River, British Columbia's forgotten riding, has been linked up with a main trunk road leading to the rest of Canada. Construction traffic is flowing northwest over the tip of this province in an ever-increasing stream. In time, the pilot cars will be followed by regular traffic, and the route will be open.

The existence of such an artery will mean much to British Columbia. Highways, like rails, have ever opened up new territory and induced settlement. On the Alaska Highway there is an added factor, the linking together of what were once isolated communities of settlement, each highly developed in itself. In the postwar years, trade will flow over that system, and its volume may prove a surprise even to its pioneers.

For the present, the possibility of taking motor traffic through to Fairbanks will mean much to the defence of this continent. It will support a chain of airfields stretching across the northlands, which one day may turn out to be an alternative air route to Europe. All of the factors of growth are inherent in the case, so that today in the North communities are watching the calendar, and ticking off the days until November.

FOR OUR SEAMEN

Seamen, a song for you
Down on the deep.
Lovers may long for you,
Mothers may weep;
You shall not take your ease
Home from the heavy seas
Till from our enemies
Secure we sleep.

England believes in you,
Seamen, her sons;
Her high heart heaves in you
Venturous ones;
Soon shall ye come to grips,
Soon shall your long grey ships
Deal with their lightning-lips
Death from your guns.

Songs shall be sung of you,
Tales shall be told;
Fame shall be young of you
When we are old;
Long through the countryside
Shall their brave names abide
Who fought, endured, and died
Our peace to hold.

THE SEA OF NO NAME (8)

The sea, of course, is a limitless highway, in its navigable waters, though subject to storm. The cubic air-ocean is a limitless highway at each and every level, and many of them are not subject to storms. We have yet to realize that as a fact. The airman measures altitude in thousands of feet, because his altimeter is spaced that way; but he could as easily measure it in hundreds of feet, or in tens, or by single feet. At flying speeds, there will be a hard-surfaced highway under the wings of his plane at every altitude, from roof-top height to 40,000 feet and up. Nor do we yet know how far is "up," how deep is the Sea of No Name.

* * *

It is more difficult to tell of the cubic nature of the air-ocean. Leaving gravitation aside, the air behaves the same with a plane in all directions. It is gravitation that turns a rudder into a wing, and an elevator into a rudder. But accept it for a fact, the air is a one-piece stream. There are no "holes" in it; no tides in the sense of marine tides; neither "high-water" nor "low-water"; and little to wait for, once the air-docks have been established on the ground. We are today held back from global flight only because of what is taking place on the ground. Some day the guns will be laid aside, the armor-plate removed, and the Sea of No Name will be man's, to the limits of the known Earth.

* * *

Somehow, we must get the feel of the three-dimensional air-ocean, that which has length, breadth and thickness. Planes, with their noses straight down, can dive to terminal velocity, when even that speed becomes constant and will not increase. Planes can climb through thirty-five thousand-foot air-oceans in a very few minutes. There is depth to Sea of No Name; and man may savor that depth at almost any level he pleases, beneath the present-day ceilings of flight. It is a little startling to think that the surface of the marine oceans, at or nearly at one level about the world, turn into as many surfaces as there are feet of altitude; and that what we have inherited is really a cubic sea, navigable in its every part.

* * *

To mortal vision, the cubic air-ocean is the sea of immense distances. Other machines in the air shrink to minute specks to our eyes when only a few thousand feet distant, above or below. Above our heads, such traffic is silhouetted and black. Below, it is hard to pick out against the patchwork surface of the earth. So, we shall have need of trained eyes; and an air observer probably has the keenest vision of any class of trained observers in the world. Young men learning to fly, could do nothing more useful than to practice seeing realistically in the three-dimensional Sea of No Name. For that takes a deal of practice and does not come easily, even to the sharpest pair of eyes.

* * *

Try as we will to sail in the Sea of No Name, we will not be done with the earth's crust. One of the most intriguing manifestations that is seen from the air is the great world of shadowland below. It is a bird's-eye view that we have, in truth; though we have not quite the vision that the birds may have. Yet a shadowland, like cloudland, is worthy of some attention for itself. Tomorrow, if you will, let us look at Shadowland.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Colonist of October 21, 1892:

The Ladies Organize—The movement on foot for some time to establish a lodge of the Daughters of England Benefit Society, on lines parallel to those of the Sons of England, culminated in a meeting in Foresters' Hall, Thursday evening, at which all preliminaries were disposed of. The Daughters will start with a charter membership in the twenties and bright prospects ahead. A second meeting of those interested is to be held next Monday.

The City Band Entertains—The members of the Victoria City Band entertained about fifty young couples at a grand social dance in Philharmonic Hall last evening. The orchestra, which consisted of six pieces, played some excellent music, and the evening throughout was full of merriment, enjoyed by all present. A waltz, played in magnificent style, opened the programme.

A Whist Tournament—The members of the Fire Department are preparing to engage in a whist tournament for a trophy during the coming week. There are a number of experts in the game among the boys and some close contests will no doubt result.

ON THE RECORD

—By DOROTHY THOMPSON

ADOLESCENT LABOR

In the President's last speech he emphasized the need of mobilizing high school students for vacation work on farms. This is a small segment of the total manpower problem, but it is, at least, a problem that can be met, creating a source of extra labor in a most distressed area of our economy, provided action is taken now, months in advance of the time when this youthful labor will be available.

In this field I have something more than a journalist's knowledge, because I have been associated before and during the last vacation period with what was, I believe, the only attempt to find a solution for this problem under something approaching laboratory conditions—taking a certain number of carefully recruited city high school students and placing them on farms in a limited number of rural counties, under supervision, and with a careful checking of the results. I refer to the work done in Vermont and a bit of New Hampshire by the Volunteer Land Corps.

COMPLICATED PROBLEM

Like every problem involving the lives and work of human beings the problem of putting adolescents to work in an environment strange to them is much more complicated than it seems at first sight. Unless the whole matter is handled with intelligence, sympathy, understanding of farmers; unless provision is made for adjustment of human relations; unless an esprit de corps is created amongst the recruits; unless both farmer and recruit are mentally conditioned for the new relationship; unless provision is made for insurance; unless communities are organized to welcome the recruits and brought into collaboration with them in such problems as recreation—unless these and many many more problems are foreseen and provided for, the maladjustments and the turnover as a result of such maladjustments can render the programme useless.

For people are not things. It is easy to talk of "rationing" manpower; but it is infinitely harder to ration people than it is to ration sugar or machine tools. People, as it happens, have lives of their own—tastes, wills, capacities, ideals, demands, desires; and all sorts of other flesh-blood-mind attributes which resist "rationing." Adolescent youth is no exception. Yet, if the schools would co-operate by shortening the school year, as has been suggested by the President, and if the organization of sixteen and seventeen-year-olds is properly conceived and executed, the exodus of such youth to farms can not only supply the nation with millions of man-hours for the production of food, but can be the basis for a great youth movement, based upon patriotism, work, honor, health, home and happiness—the last named being the famous Four H square of values animating what is already the greatest movement of youngsters in the United States.

ESTABLISHED AGENCY

Furthermore, there is an already established agency of government with long and deep experience, which could take over this problem and solve it in a great constructive way. To my mind, and after intimate experience with the problem last Summer, there is only one such federal agency. That is the Extension Service of the Department of Agriculture.

This department has all that it takes to handle this problem: Inspired and imaginative leadership under M. L. Wilson; experience with the organization of youth—the Four H clubs; techniques of integration with educational institutions, through the land grant colleges; understanding of decentralization—integration between federal and state agencies; long established contacts with every rural community in the nation, through the county agents; and, finally, an elastic administration that understands the nature of drawing in and working with voluntary committees.

All these integrations, together with a long experience, make it an ideal agency to handle this problem. No new bureaucracy, starting from scratch, and making every conceivable error out of sheer inexperience, is necessary. In this field duplication of effort—the curse of our new war bureaucracies—can be avoided, because the extension service is already intimately connected with the Federal Employment Service and the Department of Education, the collaboration of both of which is essential to the solution of this problem.

ALL THAT IS NEEDED

All that would be needed to start the mobilization of high school students in city and country for vacation work is a green light to the extension service and an adequate appropriation from Congress. And this should be done immediately. For if we wait until next Spring, when the shortage of farm labor will be very serious, it will be too late to handle the problem properly. It will be too late to have mobilized and selected or rejected recruits, either on a compulsory or voluntary basis. It will be too late to have set the necessary standards for youth and farmers; it will be too late to have provided the necessary physical and spiritual conditioning for the work; it will be too late to have organized the rural communities for the reception of recruits and provided the machinery for adjustments.

In the Spring there will be a problem yelling for solution, and again we will dash in with half-baked measures where angels fear to tread—unless we start right now, and put the matter in the hands of those equipped to handle it.

Observation Car

By G. B.

From The Financial News, Vancouver: "With all that has been said about salvage campaigns to date, it is obvious that not even a good start has been made in Canada on the task of gathering scrap for war purposes. Canada is supposed to be short of scrap steel, but the most casual observer can see great quantities of scrap for anyone with enterprise to gather. Merely to advertise will not do the job. It must be followed up, and men must 'sell' people personally and individually on salvage." . . . From The Financial Post: "Careful investigation by The Financial Post indicates there are probably almost as many cattle in Canada today as there ever were, and at least twice the peak pre-war hog production. Under ordinary circumstances meat would be cheap, good and plentiful, but actually the country is facing an acute scarcity. Five major factors contributed to the present peculiar situation: They are: Export of cattle to the United States; big meat demand by the armed forces; sharp increase in domestic meat consumption since 1939; record war exports of bacon to Great Britain; lack of definite official cattle expansion programme since the start of the war. Three solutions are to increase the number of beef cattle, increase the hog output, and prohibit the sale of veal." . . . From the British Columbia Financial Times, Vancouver: "Hon. C. D. Howe stated at Ottawa that Canada had just delivered her fifty-first 10,000-ton merchant ship. It is thus obvious that Canada, despite the superior equipment and established shipyards of the United States, has more than sustained her end of the task of supplying shipping to the United Nations. Despite all the unfavorable publicity which the shipbuilding industry on the British Columbia coast has recently received by reason of unfortunate labor disputes, it must be recorded that the fine achievement of Canada in this most important field of war industry has been in large measure due to the output of British Columbia shipyards."

Canada's Naval College

Congratulations, both on his own fine work on the naval history of Esquimalt, and also on the opening of Canada's new naval college, were contained in a letter received this week by Major F. V. Longstaff from Admiral Sir Herbert Richmond, a noted naval authority, of Master's Lodge, Downing College, Cambridge. Because Admiral Richmond's letter contains many interesting thoughts significant to this day, it is published herewith by the kind consent of the recipient.

"Dear Major Longstaff:—The book on Esquimalt Naval Base has reached me today in safety. Very many thanks for it. I am glad to have it, not only because you have compiled a valuable record which must have involved a great deal of labor but also because it will bring home to all of those who will soon be in training at the Naval College at Esquimalt what a great part they have to play in the future. Few things in recent years have given me greater pleasure than the news that the college is to be started. I wish I could come over myself and see the work and touch with it.

"Canada has such a great power for good in the world and it is intensely encouraging to see her taking to the sea. She has stayed ashore too long, but what she has done in the last two years in shipbuilding and in manning a navy is a real eye-opener and an earnest of still greater things to come. I had some young Canadian midshipmen in the last ship I commanded as a captain, and my only complaint was the same as that of the Duke of Wellington about the British soldier before Waterloo—namely, that there were too few of them. I hope that Gerald Graham's book will remind the people of that great Dominion the part which sea power has had on its fate and fortunes in the past.

"It will be a most glorious thing when Canada is able to take the part in protecting the sea and preserving the peace of the world that her navy, on a scale commensurate with her responsibilities, will put it in her power to take. I trust that those who direct her naval affairs will avoid the mistake we have made in this country of treating ships that fly as separate and distinct from ships that swim and float, and the navy will be a well-balanced force of all types of fighting ships on the surface, under the surface and above the surface, that the events of this war have shown so clearly to be needed and necessary.

"Thanking you once more for your kindness in sending me your book.

Yours sincerely,
H. W. RICHMOND

RETAILERS TO HELP

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP)—G. H. Mathews, provincial secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, said here today that a national conference of the Retail Merchants' Association in Ottawa during the week of November 1 will discuss Federal Government plans to curtail business to provide more manpower for war industries. "We're not going to object to the curtailment, we're going to offer our aid," Matthews said.

ROONEY'S WIFE FORGIVES

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20, (AP)—Movie Starlet Ava Gardner announced tonight she had dropped her suit against Mickey Rooney "and we're going to begin all over again." "Mickey and I have had our quarrels," Miss Gardner said earlier today, "but we have found out we still love each other."

TELEGRAPH AGENT DEAD

According to Culbertson

The 1942 self-rating bridge examinations will start in this column exactly one week from today.

In the past examinees have been invited to send their answers to me for marking, and I have awarded certificates of merit to all contestants earning high grades. This year, because of the difficulty of obtaining the necessary large staff of competent scorers, the exam will be on a straight self-rating basis. Under this plan contestants will not have to wait a full week for the official answers. A question will be posed one day and answered the next day (skipping Sunday). In all other details the 1942 exam will be modeled along the lines of previous events. See tomorrow's column for further information.

TODAY'S HAND

There is little profit in cashing a trick (except the fulfilling or setting trick, as the case may be) if said cashing establishes a trick for the enemy. At best it is an even exchange; at worst it may be a fatal concession. The latter was the case in the following deal:

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ A
♦ 10643
♣ Q107

WEST
♠ AQ7
♥ J92
♦ Q753
♣ 842

EAST
♠ J95
♥ 10754
♦ AK9
♣ J63

SOUTH
♠ 106
♥ KQ863
♦ J8
♣ AK95

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
3 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's last bid was an out-and-out "stab" but, due to poor defensive play, it turned out well.

West opened the diamond three. East cashed the ace and king, and then woodenly returned the nine spot. This established dummy's diamond ten, and by finding the spade ace on side, declarer had an easy time fulfilling his optimistic contract.

The play East made at the third trick is seen all too often in average circles. Under certain circumstances it is proper to "swap" trick for trick with the enemy, but in this case East should have realized that his partner's diamond queen (which was marked from the opening lead) could wait until the setting trick was in sight. What good could it do to cash the diamond queen when it would bring the defenders to only three tricks? Since West obviously had opened a four card suit, declarer could not establish the diamond ten by himself. He had no diamond left that could be led toward dummy's 10-6. Thus the defenders were in the commanding position of being able to cash their diamond trick when they saw fit. As a matter of fact, East could have returned any other card of his remaining eleven (except the heart ten) and declarer would have faced a hopeless contract.

"When water becomes ice, what is the change that takes place?" asked the professor in chemistry.

"The biggest change, professor," said Sammy Bernstein, "is the price."

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

A.C.1 A. E. Freshwater Deckhand on Alaska Camp's Communications Boat — Canadian Airmen Fare Well on U.S. Army Rations

WITH THE CANADIAN FORCES IN ALASKA, Oct. 20 (CP).—United States Army scale of rations, unanimously voted as the "best ever," is helping to keep Canadian forces in a sound state of physical fitness to meet the exacting tasks and variable weather in Alaska.

At one of the stations visited, a typical menu started off with grapefruit, assorted cereals, bacon and eggs, toast, assorted jams and coffee for breakfast. For lunch the spread consisted of baked ham with mashed potatoes, asparagus tips, blueberry pie with ice cream, bread and butter, tea. The dinner offering was fried filet of sole and tartar sauce, baked potatoes, cut green beans, fruit salad, bread and butter, cocoa.

THEY KNOW SUNDAYS

Every day of the week a different but just as varied a selection is available and if the boys lose track of the weekdays they invariably catch up with the calendar on Sundays when young roast turkey and mincemeat pie is offered for their delectation.

Sgt. G. W. Dawkins, of Bracebridge, Ont., in charge of the four messes at this station, declared the standard of the food was exceptionally high. Officers regard the variety and standard so well that they do not trouble to supplement their rations through a special mess assessment, a practice fairly general in other branches of the service.

"There is no shortage of food up this way," said Sgt. Dawkins, as he escorted Edwin S. Johnson, Canadian Press war correspondent, on a tour of the supply stores, housing sufficient reserve stock to feed the Canucks for months.

Working in the stores, mess halls and kitchens were men who had either been connected with peacetime food handling or who had learned the technique since joining the R.C.A.F. Among them were Cpl. E. Shard, Peers, Alta., and L.A.C. J. Busby, Vancouver.

NO DANGER OF SHORTAGE

There is no danger of the food reserve ever dropping close to the danger mark. F/O. George (Skipper) Ford of Vancouver, makes sure of that. Captain of the station's communications boat, the Skipper not only keeps the rations flowing to these Canadians in Alaska, but also serves as the only direct link with the "outside" in the purchase of individual needs. The boat also gives a lift to leave-bound officers and men.

Skipper Ford, who sailed the Pacific in peacetime, has assembled a crew of airmen sailors which includes as chief engineer Warrant Officer A. R. Bjorndahl, of Watrous, Sask.; first mate, Sgt. J. R. Cross, Saskatoon; wireless operator, L.A.C. S. O'Neil Lyon, Penticton, B.C., and the following deckhands: L.A.C. C. W. McNaught, Bentley, Alta.; L.A.C. C. G. Glover, North Vancouver, and A.C.1 A. E. Freshwater, of Duncan, B.C.

"When I joined the R.C.A.F. I didn't expect to become a sailor," remarked L.A.C. Glover. "But it's a great experience and I sure like the life. We're kept far too busy to get fed up."

AIR OF GOOD HUMOR

That was the note also sounded by most of the men serving ashore. Amid the hard, rugged work, long hours, daily training routine and patrols far out to sea whenever the weather permits, there was an air of good humor.

One of the Canadian campsites, nestling below snow-capped mountains and with muskeg at every turn, has been given the name of Tokio. The name stuck after one of the lads remarked that he couldn't be any farther away from civilization if he lived in the Japanese capital.

Narrow, elevated cat-walks winding through the camp have been invested with such names as "Skunk's Hollow," "Dogpatch Alley," and "Japalac Lane." In the inky darkness of the Alaskan night the men negotiate these tricky walks with supreme caution. One false step may result in a ducking in the gooey muskeg. Only a few, however, have suffered that indignity.

The men are given short leaves of forty-eight hours every two weeks, with fourteen-days off every six months for air crews and every twelve months for others. Short leave, however, is spent by most of the men right in the camp or its environs as the Canadian post is too isolated to permit of a visit to a settlement which would offer any worthwhile diversions.

Le Creusot Raid Acted as a Tonic For War Workers

LONDON, Oct. 20 (CP).—The War Cabinet in a message transmitted to Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Harris, commander-in-chief of the Bomber Command, today congratulated officers and men who took part for the skill and daring with which the great daylight raids on Le Creusot last Saturday was planned and executed.

The message, which was sent to Sir Arthur Harris by Air Secretary Sir Archibald Sinclair, said the weight of the blow struck against the German war production in occupied France was "fully appreciated by the Government."

The raid, it is reported, acted as a tonic to workers in factories where the four-motored Lancaster bombers—ninety-four of which were used on the raid—are made. An official source said: "It is very noticeable that news of such a success by the R.A.F. gives a fillip to production."

REACHED GIBRALTAR

GALT, Ont., Oct. 20 (CP).—Forced to bail out of a damaged British bomber over Belgium, P.O. John Watson, a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force whose home is in Woodstock, Ont., revealed in a letter to his brother, George, here, that he escaped through Belgium and France only to be interned in Spain.

A cable was received recently that Watson had been released and had reached Gibraltar.

RECORD KEEL LAYING

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP).—A Canadian record of two hours for the laying of a keel for a 10,000-ton vessel was claimed here today for workmen at West Coast Ship Builders, Limited.

Gangs started to lay the keel at 11:30 a.m. and had the first steel plate laid at 1:30 p.m. The job usually requires four to eight hours.

The new Western Lines press representative joined the editorial staff of The Moose Jaw Times in July, 1923. He was with The Winnipeg Tribune from January, 1928, to May, 1929, when he arrived in Vancouver to become Canadian Pacific press representative in the Mainland city, the post he held until his appointment to Winnipeg recently.

SIMPLE ENOUGH TO UNDERSTAND

Words Addressed to Workers by Ottawa Survivor Made Strong Appeal

"It's hard, when you come back to meet a young wife or a sweetheart of a chum and not be able to offer any hope for the missing."

With these simple words, Chief E.R.A. Fred Eagles concluded a [illegible] experiences as a fortunate survivor from the torpedoed Ottawa to several hundred V.M.D. employees as they changed shift yesterday.

Speaking on behalf of the Third Victory Loan, Eagles needed to make no stronger appeal to the men who listened. Among them were veterans of the last war and some of the present conflict. One of the latter, Frank Ralph, was with the Fraser when she, too, was lost. He introduced the speaker, coming straight from the ships.

The tragic episode in Canada's sea war history had already been discussed in the press, but Fred Eagles' appearance as a fellow Victorian brought the horror of the present conflict right home to his audience. The ships they built were the ships the navy convoyed. They were the ships men's lives were sacrificed to convoy through the submarine-infested waters. The speaker congratulated the workers on the ships they turned out, but suggested that their work should not end in the shipyards, and that it was the responsibility of everyone who appreciated free citizenship to see that the funds which provide the sinews of war are forthcoming with the readiness and sacrifice which only free peoples can make.

NOTHING TO HER

The new recruit to the W.A.A.F. was wandering round the balloon site looking very anxious. Presently an officer noticed her.

"What's the matter?" he asked.

"I've lost a spanner, sir," she replied dolefully.

"Nonsense!" he snorted. "You can't lose a thing like a spanner."

"Can't I? Ten minutes ago I lost a ruddy balloon."

Four boys, Douglas McKelvie, Deryck LaFortune, Douglas Alexander and John Saesar, arranged to assist Mr. Willis with one church service a month each. Anniversary Of St. Luke's Is Observed

The eightieth anniversary of the founding of St. Luke's Church, [illegible] congregations on Sunday last.

Shortly after the arrival of Bishop Hills from England house services were started in the home of the late John Irvine and from these small beginnings a church was built which was opened by Bishop Hills in October, 1862.

This building served the purpose of the district for twenty-five years. In 1886 the cornerstone of the present church was laid and the building was completed in 1887 and consecrated in June, 1888. Mr. Mallendine was the architect.

The records show that the following clergy served the parish: The Reverends F. B. Gribbell, G. Mason, P. Jenns, W. W. Malachi, G. W. Taylor, A. L. Parken, F. L. Stephenson, M. C. Browne, J. W. Flinton, R. Connell, H. A. Collison, E. M. Willis, J. D. Mackenzie-Naughton, G. A. Wells, W. Carroll, S. Ryall, and the present rector, Frederic Pike.

Since its inception the parish has shown steady progress. The present Parish Hall was opened by Bishop Perrin on Friday, February 24, 1911. In 1915 a new pipe organ was installed and the rectory was remodelled in 1928 and again in 1940. A new guild room and kitchen were also built on to the Parish Hall in 1939, and the church was enlarged in 1941. This extension was consecrated by Bishop Sexton on St. Luke's Day, October 18, 1942.

At the anniversary services Bishop Thomas Jenkins dedicated the new choir stalls in memory of the late Bishop P. T. Rowe, who for forty-six years was the Bishop of Alaska, and was a frequent worshipper in the church.

After the morning service a petition on behalf of the parishioners was read by the rector, asking the Bishop to proceed with the consecration of the new extension to the cemetery. He was preceded by the Cross-bearer, Richard Rowe, N. Cowper, rector's warden, and Arnold Edmonds, people's warden, the Rev. Frederick Pike, and Bishop Jenkins who walked around the new extension during the singing of the hymn, "Brief Life Is Here Our Portion," which was followed by prayers and the reading of the Act of Consecration by Bishop Sexton. The choir sang the hymn "How Bright These Glorious Spirits Shine," which was followed by the Benediction.

The patronal festival will be continued next Sunday, when Bishop Jenkins will be the special preacher at 11 a.m.

Honor Brides-Elect

In honor of Miss Olive Charters, whose marriage to Mr. Leonard Holmans will take place in the near future, a kitchen shower was held recently at the home of Mrs. K. Cains, Sooke. The guest of honor received a corsage bouquet of yellow rosebuds, while her mother, Mrs. S. I. Charters, and the groom-elect's mother, received pink carnations. The gifts were presented in a box decorated in Autumn colors. During the evening games were enjoyed, the prize winners being Miss E. Anderton and Mrs. G. Seaton. Bringing the evening to a close the hostess served a delightful buffet-supper.

Mrs. H. L. Briggs, 1750 Saint Ann Street, entertained at a kitchen shower on Monday evening in honor of Miss Gladys Faryon, whose marriage to Mr. David Wilfred Stott will take place in the latter part of the month. In compliment to the groom-elect, who is joining the navy, a color scheme of navy blue and white was used throughout the decorations. Corsage bouquets were presented after the guests had assembled, carnations and freesias for the bride-to-be and chrysanthemums and freesias for Mrs. H. S. Faryon and Mrs. T. S. S. Stott, mothers of the bridal couple. Conundrums and a guessing contest were enjoyed and a buffet supper was served later by the hostess. Mrs. C. A. Gibbard, sister of the groom-elect, presided at the prettily arranged table, for which a "convoy" of miniature ships flanked by small bowls of white Michaelmas daisies and lighted white tapers formed an attractive centrepiece. The guests were Mesdames H. S. Faryon, T. S. S. Stott, C. A. Gibbard, W. Graham, J. S. Sutton, D. Richmond, E. Garman, W. E. Clothier, and Misses Pearl Willows, Marguerite McNiven, Gertrude Durken, Mary Sinclair, Willena Graham, Gertrude Snyder and Doreen Briggs.

More Donors Needed for Blood Bank

By Staff Photographer.

Above is shown a typical scene at 817 Government Street, the Blood Transfusion Bureau, which opened two weeks ago, with an objective of six hundred donors. While there have been many donors, there is still a great need for more, and the bureau is open every day from Monday to Friday (B 2414). In the picture the donor is Marian Henry, standing behind her is Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, and to the right, Surgeon-Lieutenant C. H. Moore, and Mrs. John A. Stewart.

Dr. C. Whitton Suggests Ducking-Stool Revival

Speaking with some heat in an address to the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon at the Empress Hotel, Dr. Charlotte Whitton, C.B.E., suggested the revival of the old village ducking stool for the gossipers of either sex, not excluding "braggart males," who spread unverified reports detracting from the dignity and decency of the women in the active services.

Dr. Whitton said that: "Not every woman can give full-time service in war effort, but every woman can pick up any statement made to her about another woman and find out the facts, before she repeats it. It is the least she owes to women who are entering the services at less income and comfort than they can earn today in comparable civilian or war activity.

"If she finds the gossip to be true, constructive action lies in taking the facts decently, and quickly, directly to headquarters; if she finds it to be false she should do all in her power to have it retracted and the malicious or careless source of origin publicly pilloried," Dr. Whitton stated.

"Surely women owe it to other women, in one of the potentially most significant developments of the place of women in our democracy, to give them respect and understanding. Reinforce the work of the women's services!" emphasized Dr. Whitton, "don't disarm them by detracting from their dignity and prestige by your own words or actions, or by tolerating prejudice and idle mischievous talk in others."

Dr. Whitton illustrated how present times are "bringing home essentials involved in our responsibilities to look at things needed—men and women for the armed forces, supplies and ships to transport food to those people of the British Isles who have held the fortress of freedom all these many years alone, who have fought back unafraid.

"Is there," she demanded, "anything they could ask that we would not give? But they will not ask. It is up to us to give. It is our obligation to see them fed, equipped, supplied, and behind all this there is the maintenance of the fabric of our life." In this Dr. Whitton included home, hospitals, schools, social agencies, the field of agricultural production, industrial production, in the fact as she said "there is no place where women are not being fitted."

BURSARIES PRESENTED

A very pleasing ceremony took place prior to the address by Dr. Whitton on "The Faith of Free Women," in the presentation by the president, Mrs. F. G. Aldous, of two bursaries, given by the Women's Canadian Club to the boy and girl student with highest marks in matriculation, and not having won another school bursary. Recipients were Jean Kathleen Gray and Roger Brent Hicks. A condition accompanying the award is that the students must go to Victoria College.

Announcement was made that on October 27 H. Napier Moore will address the members. Described as one of "Canada's wittiest and most brilliant after-dinner speakers," Mr. Moore was in England on the return of the men from Dieppe and will speak promptly at 2.30 o'clock on his "Report on Britain."

At the recent showing of jungle pictures by Major C. C. Wilson, the sum of $55 was donated to aid his Spitfire Fund, and at the same meeting $27.50 War Savings Stamps were bought, it was reported.

Mrs. Jack Bulickx rendered, very charmingly, two solos, "In My Garden" and "Without a Song," the accompaniments being played by Mrs. G. A. McCurdy.

School Teacher Is Honored on Her Retirement

Miss Gertrude Field, on the staff of Margaret Jenkins School for over twenty years, was honored last night by members of the staff and Parent-Teacher Association on her retirement from the teaching profession. Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, president of the P.-T.A., made the presentation on behalf of the executive and teaching staff. The event was held in the teachers' room prior to the business meeting of the group. Miss Field received a set of crystal candlesticks worked with silver inlay and a rose bowl to match. With the gift was a corsage bouquet of roses and violets.

The regular business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Pottinger and opened with musical selections by the Victoria High School Boys' Band under the direction of Mr. Alfred Prescott.

The speaker of the evening was Trustee Austin Curtis, who was introduced by Mr. F. G. Mulliner. Mr. Curtis gave an interesting talk on the work of the school board. Trustee William Bayliss was also present at the meeting.

Plans were made for a Hallowe'en entertainment for the children of the school, to be held on Saturday, October 31, from 7 till 10 o'clock.

The annual bazaar takes place on November 20 and will be convened by Mrs. A. F. Davidson and followed by a card party in the evening.

Beaver Club Entertains At Gay Event

The Beaver Club of the Hudson's Bay entertained members of the staff, friends and a great number of His Majesty's three forces at a dance last night at the Empress Hotel, with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Horne, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McKenzie and Mr. G. W. Lawrence, of the Winnipeg store, as special guests.

Novelty dances and medleys were the order of the evening, and the innovation of a "date bureau" proved a great success. For this girls of the store acted as hostesses to men in the forces who were looking for partners. The date bureau was held in the writing-room and was most satisfactory.

The programme was arranged by Miss Shirley Johnson and members of the dance committee included Misses Gladys Schroeder, Bunny Grevette, Barbara Beaumont, Willena Graham, Mr. Harold Pellett, Mr. Arthur Wyllie and Mr. John Chahnbers.

ENOUGH NOW

Murphy was paying twenty-eight shillings a week board and lodging. One day his landlady said, "Pat, I'm afraid I shall have to charge you another two shillings. You're such a big eater."

"For heaven's sake, don't do that!" said Murphy. "I'm killing myself already tryin' to eat twenty-eight shillin's worth!"

Death Ends Long Career Of Favorite

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Oct. 20 (AP).—May Robson, who retired from pictures because her pride wouldn't let her admit that she was going blind, died quietly today as she slept.

She had spent fifty-eight of her seventy-eight years as an actress on stage and screen. But she gave up her career last year when she could recognize fellow players by voice [illegible]

With her as she passed away, after two days of intermittent consciousness, were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gore, and her secretary-companion since 1910, Lillian Harmer.

Miss Robson was beloved by Hollywood probably more than any other character actress since the late Marie Dressler. Her birthday parties were annual occasions of celebration—often an elaborate luncheon on the set of whatever picture she happened to be making.

She was beloved, too, outside Hollywood.

A KIND HEART

Driving one day, she and Miss Harmer noted two crying youngsters on a curb. They stopped to inquire the trouble. The pair said their parents were being put out of their home because the landlord didn't like children, and that they had been unable to move because other owners felt the same way.

Their tears and story turned Miss Robson into a landlord. She built a number of houses and rented them only to families of four or more.

Born in Melbourne, Australia, April 19, 1864, Miss Robson made her stage debut in 1883, as "Tilly," an old maid, in "Hoop of Gold." That was the start of a career devoted largely to playing elderly character parts. She was in early motion pictures, including "King of Kings," but didn't believe the flickers had a future and stayed away from Hollywood until 1930.

Spencer's Staff Enjoy Evening Of Entertainment

More than 200 executives and staff members attending the ninth annual dinner, entertainment and dance of Spencer's Sports and Social Club was held Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Following the dinner, at which Miss Sara Spencer was guest of honor, the annual business meeting and election of officers was conducted. Entertainment was provided by the Music Makers. F. A. Tadman, president of the club, was in the chair and he welcomed the visitors and former members of the store now in the armed forces.

Miss S. Underwood was re-elected vice-president, Ted Groom, the only other nominee, declining to run. W. E. Peirce was chosen second vice-president to succeed Miss Kay Elston. The club elected Miss Frances Bateman to succeed Miss Margaret George as secretary, and Miss D. Stocken was named treasurer. Mr. Tadman will continue as president to complete his term which ends next Fall.

The treasurer's report, presented by Miss George, acting treasurer, showed a surplus of $1,745, while the financial report of the lunch-room, presented by O. M. Prentice, showed a deficit of $335. He asked the club to balance the lunch-room deficit by a further grant of $300 and by raising the monthly grant to $125.

Sgt.-Maj. Les Bradley addressed the club on behalf of the former employees who are now members of the armed services.

The variety show programme of fourteen numbers was presented by the Music Makers, and Bill Towill acted as master of ceremonies. Dancing to a six-piece orchestra continued until midnight.

Weddings

HADDOW—McNEIL

The chancel of the Canadian Memorial Chapel, Vancouver, was the setting on Saturday evening, October 10, for the marriage of Evelyn Grace, daughter of Mrs. May McNeil, of this city, and Mr. D. McNeil, of Garden Grove, Cal., to Mr. James Colvin Haddow, son of Mrs. Haddow, of Victoria, and the late Mr. R. Haddow. Rev. G. H. Villett officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Spencer McNeil, the bride chose a poudre blue wool jacketed frock, accented by chocolate brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of orchids, pale pink roses and freesias. Miss Muriel McNeil attended her sister and Mr. Arnold Ricker was best man.

Responsibilities GO WITH RIGHTS
• In no other country in the world do citizens enjoy more wholly the privileges and rights of free democracy than do we in Canada.
But the very nature of democracy that creates those rights, creates the responsibility of maintaining them.

English was in charge of the programme and the devotional period was taken by Mrs. W. H. Muncy, followed by a prayer by Mrs. G. Twamley. An interesting talk on the study book, "Christian Homes," was given by Mrs. Alfred Dowell, stressing the responsibility that lay on the church in these difficult times and urging the members to do their part in making better homes, especially for those who are strangers. During the afternoon two vocal solos by Mrs. Swetnam, "Awake, Sing Praises Unto Thee" and "Remember Thy Creator," were much appreciated. Mrs. Muncy acted as accompanist. A letter was read to the meeting from Miss Madeline Bock, who is in charge of the Japanese Mission in Greenwood. GRENIER CORSETS

On the Home Front

WITH JOAN GARDNER

The most spectacular work being done in the present crisis is often the sum total of many small, seemingly unimportant bits which, separately require only a little time and effort. This is demonstrated forcibly in the work of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Brigadier Samuel Hepburn, wife of the divisional commander of the Salvation Army in the Philadelphia area, is responsible for the work of 3,000 volunteers. In 1940 she appealed for volunteers to sew garments for Great Britain's women and children dispossessed in the German aerial strafing of the English cities. Hundreds of women responded, and they together with the regular home league members attached to the ten Salvation Army Corps throughout the city, formed the first nucleus of today's brigade of 3,000 who are busy knitting garments for soldiers and sailors who go off to far distant shores in this global war. They are also creating a reserve of garments for women and children should an unprecedented need arise on these shores.

The switch to the home front was made after Pearl Harbor. Previously shiploads of clothing were sent to England by this and other Salvation Army groups.

One of the most important services given by the sewing group today is its assistance to the armed forces. The women supply sewing service to the soldiers—mending uniforms, attaching loose chevrons, shortening trousers, repairing tears, and replacing buttons. Often, too, the boys detailed to cold climates request sweaters, ear muffs and other accessories against Winter weather. Last Winter, 5,000 ear muffs alone for the use of the military were supplied by this group, whose sewing room adjoins the Salvation Army's Red Shield Club, which hundreds of uniformed men visit weekly.

HOW THE WORK IS DONE

As a start, the basement of the Salvation Army headquarters was renovated to provide the main sewing room and storerooms for the programme. Beginning with a few women, the sewing room roster has grown to hundreds and is open daily from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. five days and two nights each week. The rest of the work is farmed out to women who work in groups at churches, clubs and in individual homes. Even children in the Philadelphia public schools lend a hand and make rugs on hand looms to be used in the air raid shelters in the event of enemy attack.

The women themselves bring in the patterns for the children's garments and dresses. These are always in the current style, as the programme wants no antiquated patterns.

The work entails considerable patience on the part of the sewing volunteers. Many of the pieces from the factory are one inch by two inches in size, yet the women by tedious duplication and clever arranging of the materials have fashioned some beautiful children's wear from this material.

A lot of the piece material also goes into the making of quilts for the emergency shelters. In the matter of bedding, the programme calls for the equipping of several thousand beds to be set up in emergency shelters in the ten Salvation Army centres in this Eastern city. Virtually the only material purchased is sheeting from which the women make the pillow cases and sheets needed for the emergency cots.

Wool yarn to make sweaters and socks for the soldiers is also purchased; but the co-operating groups reimburse the Salvation Army for this yarn and return the finished garments for distribution.

VOLUNTEERS WITH SPECIAL SKILLS

The cutting of the dresses—a very important first step—is done by skilled dressmakers who have volunteered for this work. The bookkeeping is done by young women office workers who come to the sewing room and help keep day sheets that enable the project to have an accurate account of the amount of the work performed each day, the number of contributions, and a record of the quantity of blankets, sheets, quilts, pillow cases and garments in storage at the moment. (All finished garments are stored by size and kind in mothproof boxes, properly catalogued.)

Those women without any special talent are put to work sorting out buttons, which the factories contribute in mixed barrel lots, or they pull the piece material off sample cards, find the right threads, hooks and eyes, and so on. Important little details that someone needs to do in order that the other work may go on.

Miss Frances Borde will be the supervisor, and is well qualified to carry on this work, having been in charge of the Victoria playgrounds during the Summer months. MOLYNEUX, master of the slim silhouette, has sent us a small collection of Autumn clothes from his London house. Sketched are three that are typical. Left is a grey-green heather tweed suit, which has a double-breasted look though it only buttons over, and has the new long-waisted line which he is sponsoring. With it is a darker green crepe blouse. Centre is a black suit with set-in belt which again accentuates a waistline right down to the top of the hips. Persian collar trims the jacket, and the dress beneath has a gold satin front and black satin back. Right is a smart brown crepe dress with back fullness and a neckline high in front, slashed in the back. Though this skirt is full, it hangs so straight that it seems slim from the front. The hats were designed by Erik.

UNCOVER BLACK MARKET COFFEE

Man's Keen Taste for Good Coffee Leads to Discovery Of Fraud

FITCHBURG, Mass., Oct. 20 (AP)—A Fitchburg husband who likes good coffee has uncovered a widespread "black market" in Massachusetts, O.P.A. officials revealed tonight.

Coffee adulterated with cereal filler, sales above ceiling prices and apparent violations of war production sales quota orders were among the discoveries of O.P.A. investigators.

The coffee was handled by scores of retailers, more than a dozen wholesalers and at least one large coffee roasting concern, said Henry Parkman, Jr., Massachusetts O.P.A. director.

From John M. Russell, O.P.A. enforcement attorney, came the story of how the probe is mushrooming to all parts of the state.

A Fitchburg husband, he said, took one taste of coffee his wife had been "lucky to get" at a store in their city—and protested. His wife had retained a sales slip showing she had paid 45 cents a pound for the coffee. Her husband turned it over to the O.P.A. and the probe began.

From the store it reached a peddler, Russell continued. Then it moved back to a wholesaler, then to a roaster and from the roaster to twelve other wholesalers and scores of retailers.

WORK PLAN TO BEGIN AT HOME

Dr. Charlotte Whitton Continues Discussion of Social Welfare Programme

"We will continue to buckle in trying to work out Dominion-provincial relations for welfare and social security until such time as we clear our provincial-municipal relations within the different provinces," Dr. Charlotte Whitton C.B.E., told her audience at the Empress Hotel last night in the second of her series of four lectures on "War and Welfare" sponsored here by the Council of Social Agencies.

"And," she added in the same statement, "we must get some understanding with each province that will make possible co-operation with the Dominion for the welfare of the people, and that this will be assured with nothing short of the whole national resource."

Dr. Whitton's address last night completed a discussion on "What lies behind our present social welfare programme". Monday night she dealt with the subject, chiefly from the angle of the Maritimes, Quebec and Eastern Ontario; last night she discussed the subject with special reference to Western Ontario, the Prairies and British Columbia.

SYSTEMS COMPARED

Following the method used in her Monday night address Dr. Whitton touched on early historical conditions, in each of the areas mentioned, which had affected or influenced the welfare legislation.

In New Brunswick and Nova Scotia there existed the concept of public assumption of care and general welfare by the local unit, on an obligatory basis, with administration and costs resting with the local municipality.

Characteristic of Quebec was legislation that was basically permissive and voluntary, with public subsidy to approved undertakings resting on local administration, but also permissive in the local unit.

In Ontario and Manitoba were found assumption of obligation, permissive by the local authority, but almost universally accepted as a public obligation. Ontario made provision for broad support for private undertakings.

PROVINCIAL DIRECTION

A system basically public in administration as well as funds, and with strong provincial direction, characterized Alberta and British Columbia. Prince Edward Island was more characteristic of the county unit of Ontario in its attitude to welfare legislation, resting back on provincial and enabling legislation with a large measure of voluntary responsibility.

In her reference to social legislation and welfare administration in British Columbia, Dr. Whitton indicated the effect of the strong centralized administration which characterized the Hudson's Bay Company. This concept persisted even after Vancouver Island became a Crown colony, and had its effect on provincial-municipal relations down to the present day.

B.C. CONDITIONS

"The peculiar conditions in British Columbia, from the point of view of strong local government, have certain disadvantages which would be repugnant to some of the Eastern provinces, but they contribute to a remarkably tidy form of administration, which has its advantages in health and welfare administration," noted the speaker. British Columbia and Alberta were the only provinces which made it absolutely compulsory on municipalities to provide for their own needy and depressed peoples. Dr. Whitton wittily remarked that no special virtue could be claimed for this condition, which was attributable solely to the fact of the condensation of the population into four or five large cities. Nevertheless, because of these highly centralized conditions, British Columbia had been the first province to venture widely in such areas of social progress as old-age allowances.

"On the other hand," she prophesied, "as the province grows and the population increases, you will find weaknesses in your system. As the population thickens you will, I think, find regional development, particularly in your health and welfare legislation. British Columbia, with so much to give in leadership, should attempt to bridge the gap with the other provinces."

Alderman George introduced Dr. Whitton, whose lecture tonight at the Empress Hotel will be on "The Child Protection System of the Canadian Provinces".

Plane Overdue In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 20 (AP)—A United States Army plane piloted by Col. Charles Deerwester, chief of an American aviation mission to Argentina, was reported twelve hours overdue tonight on a flight from El Palomar army base to Mendoza.

The Argentine Minister of War initiated a search for the plane, although expressing belief it may have landed in a desolate part of Western Argentina because of bad weather.

Stocks Again in Thrust Forward On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP). — The stock market today celebrated the extinguishment of worries over 1942 taxes—with a new forward thrust which was good for gains of fractions to more than a point for the general run of industrials.

A revival of interest in steels and motors freshened bullish sentiment to a degree that worked out well for nearly everything except the rails, which were a bit droopy on a steep fall in reorganization rail bonds.

Buyers seemed pleased that the revenue measure would go to the President with the lately voted "concession" provisions for business intact.

A final advance of .5 of a point in The Associated Press sixty-stock average duplicated the October 13 peak of 40.1, highest level reached by this composite since last November. The turnover was 667,330 shares, compared with 401,090 yesterday.

Late buying in the coppers was accompanied by stories that producing companies might receive better than ceiling prices under a revision of production quotas said to be under consideration by the W.P.B.

Up to a point or better at the finish were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, American Can, Johns-Manville, Union Carbide and Patino Mines. Allied Chemical jumped 3 3-4 and DuPont 2. Chrysler entered new high territory for a year or more on a rise of 3-4.

WHAT'S DOING ON THE LOCAL RETAIL PRODUCE MARKET

First arrivals of the season to appear on the row this week include pomegranates, which are now available, white Malaga grapes, due to appear on the row today, and Texas grapefruit, which wholesalers expect on Thursday.

A shipment of seedless grapes appeared yesterday, but officials state the season is nearly over and they do not know when the next will arrive. There have been no banana consignments this week and wholesalers are uncertain about them. Oranges and MacIntosh Red apples arrived on Monday.

Large and medium-sized Grade "A" eggs are reported very scarce on vegetable row. The large size has now reached its wholesale ceiling price. Hothouse tomatoes are up in price, it is stated, and a car of Ashcroft potatoes is due today.

That Body of Yours

VITAMIN A AND POOR EYESIGHT

It is agreed that the greatest discovery in nutrition in recent years is the vitamins. Each and every vitamin so far discovered gives some definite help in maintaining good nutrition and, in other indirect ways, is a real help to the body processes.

Unfortunately, many individuals are relying almost entirely on vitamins not only for nourishment but for other defects or deficiencies in the body.

Thus, the fact that vitamin A is of great help where there is some defect of the surface cells of the body—skin, lining of the eyelids, covering the eyeball and other surfaces—has caused many individuals to believe that vitamin A will restore their eyesight and make glasses unnecessary.

If an individual is getting little or no vitamin A in his food, he may find that his eye reflexes are slow, that is, when he passes from light to darkness or darkness to light the eyes are slow in adjusting themselves to the change. In severe cases inflammation results. It is in these cases which, though it is the eyes that are affected, that vitamin A taken direct or in milk, fruit, vegetables, cod liver oil, gives such wonderful results. As these are common foods in general use, physiologists state that the retina, at the back of the eye, does not usually need extra vitamin A.

We are told in the bulletin of the Better Vision Institute that about 95 per cent (19 of every 20) of all cases of poor vision results from refractive errors, that is, the object does not strike the retina at back of eye properly—short sight, long sight, astigmatism (object not clear). These defects of vision are corrected by glasses which bend the rays of light in such a way that the object strikes the retina properly. Vitamin A cannot perform this service for poor vision.

The thought then, is that vitamin A has a definite use in certain eye conditions, but it cannot restore poor eyesight, nor can it take the place of glasses in making an image strike the retina properly.

I am writing this because so many are taking vitamin A for their poor eyesight instead of consulting an oculist or optometrist. This means that they are not only wasting time and money, but are losing valuable time in not getting vision corrected properly.

CHAPTER XLIX

Mamma Eckert became frightened again as the four of them entered the great auditorium. Papa Eckert, in an old dress suit that had sharper tails than the modern version and smelled faintly of moth balls, was in his element, laughing, gesticulating, shaking his white head. Mama kept putting her hands to her earrings to see whether they were still there, and her gentle eyes behind the thick glasses were miserable.

When an usher took Guy's ticket stubs and motioned them to follow him down the aisle she shrank against her husband.

"I can't sit way down there in front," she declared. "I just can't."

"But, mama, we've never sat up front." Papa Eckert argued. "You can see the hands of the pianist up there."

Guy offered to get the seats changed. He came back from the ticket office a few minutes later to tell them that he could get only two back seats.

"I'll sit back there with Mama Eckert," he offered. "And you, papa, can go up front with Amy."

But Papa Eckert would have none of that. He guessed maybe he could hear the music better from the rear of the house.

Behind Papa Eckert's back Amy made a motion to Guy not to over persuade him.

"After all, it's their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary," she said as she and Guy followed the usher down the aisle. She had no idea of the shine in her eyes as she looked up at him—a shine that was really the reflection of the love of the older couple. But how was an onlooker to know that?

The members of the orchestra took their places with the lack of ostentation characteristic of a symphony orchestra. The lights were out and Amy sat beside Guy in the darkened house, watching the director take his stand, waiting for the movement of his band which would fill the darkness with sound, listening to the first tentative questions asked by the violins, the liquid, trilling answer of the flute, the deep throbbing assurance of 'cellos and then the mighty lashing fury of the full orchestra. And, as always, the music swept her soul clean, leaving only a lovely ache.

Her thoughts went back then, to Papa and Mama Eckert, at the back of the auditorium, linked to the stage as she and Guy were by those golden chains of sound. Neither of them was what her world would have called educated. Yet they shared great moments sitting side by side on their wedding anniversary, being entertained by Chopin and Beethoven and Stravinski. Their love was the real thing, a steady shining through the years.

She and Paul could have been like that—sharing beautiful things—beautiful things created by Paul. But Paul seemed so far away—in his cabin tucked in among the folds of the mountains. And there was Guy beside her, steady and good and sweet. And lonely as she was lonely.

She wasn't aware that the loneliness drew them together until their shoulders touched. She wasn't aware what a conspicuous couple they were as they came up the aisle during the intermission—Guy slim, strong, distinguished looking; she small and exquisite in her garnet red velvet dress with its great swinging skirt and stem of a waist.

Back in the foyer a handsome grey-haired woman with a cameo at her throat and eyebrows lifted high as though artificially hooked upward, greeted her effusively.

Guy remembered her as Mrs. Ainslee, Guy's old friend whom she had met at the tea party where she had to pinch hit for Frani.

"You must bring this child out to see me!" Mrs. Ainslee declared.

Amy started to say that she didn't think she'd be at Guy's home much longer, but that hardly seemed the time or place to say it.

Then they were caught up in a group of people whom Guy knew—people who discussed the orchestra's performance with love and understanding and disagreed animatedly and pleasantly—people who spoke Amy's language, people who were giving her something she had missed for a long time. And she found herself talking as she hadn't talked for months—gay and exalted and alive with interest.

Dr. Ames shouldered his way into the group—big and brawnily handsome in evening clothes—and took the conversation away from them all after his habit. But he did not seem to see Amy until one of the women asked, "Dr. Ames, have you met Miss Tudor?"

"Emph!" Dr. Ames grunted.

She shouldn't have minded, Amy told herself. He had snapped at her that way so many times. But the little incident made her realize suddenly how her being there with Guy, an accident really, might look to other people. She had been so absorbed in trying to make Papa and Mama Eckert's celebration perfect that she hadn't given the matter a thought.

Now, as though to emphasize it, Mrs. Aelling appeared. Amy recognized her immediately as one of the group of women with whom Frani had invaded her room when she had first gone to the Fallingham house—the most insolent of them, the one who had made remarks about Amy's looking "more like a movie star than a governess."

Sports Slants

By SID THOMAS

ORCHIDS TO:

Norman Stewardson, popular and well-known soccer goalie, who has a hand in the organization and operation of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association.

Yes, ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Stewardson is the 1942-43 president of the local association and we know he will do a grand job. Energetic and keenly interested in a game in which he has risen to stardom, the new head of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association is setting an example for other senior players to follow. We sincerely hope they will fall in line.

Senior managers and players have given little thought to the football players of tomorrow, the youngsters. We have seen no tangible evidence of their interest. Actions speak louder than words, and it is action that is needed to keep the grand old game of soccer going in any city, village or hamlet.

And it is action that the clubs are going to get from President Norman Stewardson.

MAY GET JOB

Stan Curry, versatile young Victoria athlete, now wearing the khaki of the Canadian Army, may get the job as goalie for the soldier sextette in the Vancouver Island Hockey League.

Understudy to Laurel Harney, veteran net custodian of the Bapcos last season, Curry is certainly a promising youngster and has a lot of natural ability.

Called into action for a short time during a Pacific Coast Amateur League game at Nanaimo late last season, Curry performed brilliantly and gained the plaudits of the Up-Island fans.

At the present time Curry is training with the Army club and the officials are pleased with his work. One thing is certain, the soldier puckchasers will know that Curry will be trying all of the time. Young in years but a seasoned athlete, this keen youngster always gives all he has, and that's plenty.

SNAPSHOTS

Ollie Goldsmith, former basketball star, now a member of the Y.M.C.A. War Services staff at Patricia Bay, is lining up the R.C.A.F. senior cage team which will play in the Victoria and District Basketball League . . . Walking across the parade ground one day, Ollie stumbled into a young blond-haired member of the R.C.A.F. who answers to the name of Norm Baker, and was he mad . . . Mention of Jack "Casey" Coulter in this column has already started the soccer fans talking about centre forwards. Yesterday the telephone rang and the voice at the other end started to put in a plug for Jimmy Worswick, now with the Canadian Army overseas. We readily admitted that Worswick is a good soccer player and packs a good kick and we certainly know whereof we speak. Well, we remember him as a "barrack rat" at Work Point more than two decades ago when he was in knee pants. He played with the Garrison, Esquimalt, Victoria United and North Shore and scored plenty of goals. But we still think there was just a little more ating to those drives of "Casey" Coulter's . . . What do you think?

GRID SQUADS WILL BATTLE

Navy and Air Force Teams To Play in Colorful Setting —Large Crowd Expected

TORONTO, Oct. 20 (CP)—In a setting of mock bombings, parades, lucky drawings and circus acts, H.M.C.S. York's navy squad will attempt to take over sole possession of second place in the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union in a game against Royal Canadian Air Force Hurricanes at Maple Leaf Stadium tomorrow night.

The game is dedicated to the Third Victory Loan and the proceeds will go to the Royal Canadian Navy and R.C.A.F. Benevolent and Canteen Funds. It will be the first floodlight game of the local season.

The navy squad, at present tied for second place with Hamilton Wildcats and Toronto Balmy Beach, hopes to upset the league leading Hurricanes who haven't lost a game in the five league fixtures already played. The second-place holders each have won three and lost two.

In view of the importance of the game itself and because of the added spectacle attractions, officials in charge of the event said today they expected a crowd of 20,000.

In the season's opening game Hurricanes defeated Navy 11-5 before 17,000 fans at Varsity Stadium in a game which saw Hurricanes hold a good margin of play but also which saw the bluejackets pressing towards the end of the game. It was a stirring struggle.

Hurricanes, however, are favored to win tomorrow night's struggle because of superior reserve strength, a factor which played a part in their first victory over the seamen.

ERNIE STOCK HEADS CAGE LEAGUE HERE

Harold Turner and Bro. M. G. Reilly Given Posts—Entry Deadline Set

Basketballers made definite progress last night at the Y.M.C.A., when they elected their officers for the 1942-43 season and set Tuesday, October 27, as the closing date for filing entries.

Ernie Stock, who guided the destinies of the Victoria and District Basketball League during the final stages of last season, was elected president. With him as executive members are Harold Turner, vice-president; Bro. M. G. Reilly, secretary-treasurer; W. J. Cull and Bob Whyte.

The gathering was one of the most enthusiastic in a long time, and officials are convinced that the cage game will be quite successful during the 1942-43 campaign. For one thing, indications point to a five-team senior "A" men's loop, while the minor circuits will be well represented.

Probable entries for the senior league are the Dominoes, Canadian champions; Royal Canadian Navy, Army, Royal Canadian Air Force and Victoria Machinery Depot.

PLAYING FLOORS

Playing floors in the city will include the Sports Centre, Y.M.C.A., and the Victoria High School gymnasium. Some senior games will be played in the Royal Canadian Air Force gymnasium at Patricia Bay.

Clubs wishing to enter may leave their entries at the office of St. Louis College, Pandora Avenue. All entries must be accompanied by the fee.

Teams filing entries last night included: K.V's, intermediate "A"; intermediate "B" and junior boys; St. Louis College, intermediate "B" and junior boys; Comets, junior girls; Kandy Kids, intermediate "B" girls, and Rookies, intermediate "A" girls.

ORIOLES DISBANDED

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20 (AP)—Baltimore Orioles, of the Eastern United States Amateur Hockey League, has been disbanded, but the city will be represented by the Curtis Bay Coast Guard team, Ray Crawford, an Oriole director, said the board voted last night to surrender its franchise in the Eastern League until the war is over.

Alsab, Shut Out Will Race Today At Jamaica Track

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—The paths of Alsab and Shut Out, outstanding three-year-olds of the year, cross again tomorrow in the $15,300 Gallant Fox Handicap at Jamaica.

For Alsab, twice conqueror of mighty Whirlaway, the mile and five-eighths jaunt will furnish an opportunity to square accounts with the ace of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree Stable. Shut Out whipped Mrs. Albert Sabath's pride and joy in the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes but bowed to the son of Good Goods in the Preakness.

Army Boxers Will Compete Saturday In Championships

VICTORIA Area boxing championships will be staged Saturday evening at the Bay Street Armoury, when soldier scrappers don the padded mittens to battle in the annual title bouts. According to reports, a number of top-flight boxers are now serving here with the Canadian Army, and followers of the sport should witness a good programme. Gunner Jack Shaw, in charge of soldier fisticuffers, stated last night that there will be approximately twelve bouts, from heavyweights down to the lighter divisions. First scrap is scheduled for 7.30 o'clock, and the programme is open to the public.

RUGGERS WILL MEET TONIGHT

Plans for 1942-43 Season Will Be Laid at Important Parley Here

With at least four service fifteens reported ready for action, local rugger enthusiasts will lay plans for the 1942-43 season at a meeting to be held this evening at 8.15 o'clock at Room 511, Central Building, View Street.

Major J. C. MacDonald, president of the Victoria Rugby Union, at present on the Mainland, has been in conference with other British Columbia officials on the McKechnie Cup series, and will probably have an important announcement to make on his return to the city.

The coveted McKechnie Cup, symbolic of provincial Rugby supremacy, is at present held by Victoria, and it is generally agreed that the locals will defend their provincial championship again this season. Vancouver and Varsity, according to Mainland reports, meet in the first game of the series on November 14.

With a number of fine athletes now stationed here with the services, the locals should be able to muster a strong, well-balanced side for the inter-city fixtures. Victoria's first home game is usually played on Boxing Day, and there is no reason to expect a change in the playing dates this season.

Roddy McInnes, treasurer of the Victoria Rugby Union, in making the announcement of tonight's meeting, stated that the parley is open to all persons interested in English Rugby.

All-Star Squads Chosen by Hendy

Editor of National League Guide Names Hockey Greats—Tiny Thompson, Eddie Shore, "King" Clancy, Howie Morenz, Charlie Conacher And Harvey Jackson on First Team

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20 (CP)—There is only one way to pick an all-star team, and that is to see the players perform over a period of years, says Jim Hendy, New York Rangers' publicity man and editor of The National Hockey League Guide.

Anyone who ever tried to say that one man from a decade was better than another when he actually never saw them play against each other is talking through his hat, he said.

Hendy believes Tiny Thompson, of Calgary, goalkeeper for Boston Bruins, rates all-star ranking for the decade 1930-40. Thompson has the best pair of hands seen in N.H.L. quarters and is cool under fire, he said.

In picking others for a first team, New York's No. 1 fan put Eddie Shore, of Edmonton, also a Boston star, and "King" Clancy, of Ottawa Senators and Toronto Maple Leafs, on defence for the 1930-40 aggregation. Shore was a great rushing defenceman, he said, while Clancy was slight, "a 150-pound streak of lightning with perfect timing in body checking."

Up front, Hendy believes the late Howie Morenz, Montreal Canadiens' flash, was the peer of centre icemen. He chose Charlie Conacher and Harvey Jackson, both of Toronto Maple Leafs, wingmen to flank Morenz. Conacher led the N.H.L. pointmakers for several seasons.

"Chalky" Wright Stops Vasquez in Non-Title Fight

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 20 (AP)—It took "Chalky" Wright, 130 pounds of New York, a few rounds tonight to catch up with Henry Vasquez, 132 pounds, of Madrid, but when he did he battered the Spaniard to the canvas four times, winning on a technical knockout in the eighth round of a scheduled ten-round, non-title bout.

Wright, recognized by the New York Boxing Commission as world's featherweight champion, slammed a right to Vasquez' jaw for the finisher. Vasquez, resting on his knee for the count, appeared still full of fight, however, when one of his seconds jumped into the ring, automatically halting the bout, as Referee Joe Currie reached the count of seven.

Vasquez protested to his handler and to the referee that he wanted to continue.

Faltering under a hail of Wright blows, he had been down three times in the seventh round, once for a nine count and twice for counts of six.

BOXLA STAR ENLISTS

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 20 (CP)—Kenny Dixon, amateur hockey and lacrosse star who had been trying for a place with the Toronto Maple Leafs hockey club here, has left to join the army.

Dixon was a member of the Mimico-Brampton Combines, Mann Cup lacrosse title-holders.

WHIPS PASTOR

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20 (AP)—Jimmy Bivins, Cleveland's slugging negro light heavyweight, invaded the heavyweight ranks again tonight to take a close decision from Bob Pastor, of New York, before some 11,000 customers in Cleveland Arena.

Chicago—Al Gomez, 133 1-2, Chicago, knocked out Chuck Taylor, 139 1-2, Pittsburgh, Pa. (six).

SIX FOOTBALL CLUBS WILL PLAY SATURDAY

Victoria and District Football League Has Complete Fixture List This Week — Two New Teams Will Make Season's Debut—V.M.D. To Oppose Navy at Athletic Park

LEAGUE STANDING

Saturday's Games

2:30—V.M.D. vs. R.C.N., Royal Athletic Park; referee, Obee.

3:00—Army vs. R.A.F., Work Point Barracks; referee, McMillan.

3:00—C.A.S. of I. vs. Esquimalt United, Bullen Park; referee, Hodges.

Saturday's soccer programme will provide all six clubs of the Victoria and District Football League with action, with Esquimalt United and the Canadian Army School of Instruction making their 1942-43 debuts.

Feature match on the card is scheduled at Royal Athletic Park, where Manager "Jock" McColl's undefeated Victoria Machinery Depot eleven will be at home to the Royal Canadian Navy Shipyard workers, at present tied with the Royal Air Force from Patricia Bay for top honors, should find the Esquimalt bluejackets a tough nut to crack.

Out at Work Point Barracks, Esquimalt, Sergeant-Major Elliott's soldier soccerites will be at home to the R.A.F. in a match that promises to produce plenty of good football. In their last meeting the British flyers eked out a narrow verdict over the boys in khaki, but reports emanating from the troops' camp suggest that the R.A.F. will be in for a busy afternoon.

TO MAKE DEBUT

Third game on the triple card will bring together Esquimalt United and the Canadian Army School of Instruction at Bullen Park. With a number of their players in Canada's fighting forces, Esquimalt, Saanich Thistles and Victoria Weste—three civilian clubs have thrown their lot in together and will play under the name of Esquimalt United.

Nothing new has developed in the proposed inter-city series between all-star clubs from the Mainland and the Victoria and District Football League. However, it is a known fact that both parties are interested in the proposal, and something definite can be expected in the near future.

Terminal City League clubs playing at Athletic Park, Vancouver, are attracting large crowds, and present attendances at Royal Athletic Park here have shown a decided increase over those of last season. Keeping this in mind, officials both here and on the Mainland are confident the inter-city matches will meet with popular favor.

Interest in junior and juvenile circles is also increasing, and league officials announced last night that excellent hopes are entertained for a junior circuit here. One club has definitely entered, and others, it is understood, are interested in joining the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association.

SPORT SHORTS FROM BRITAIN

By ALLAN NICKLESON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 20 (CP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force softball season in Hyde Park is over, but those thousands who turned up at each game to see what it was all about will tell you it was "a smashing affair." In short, Britons enjoyed their baseball entertainment, though in comparison to Canadian fans they appeared polite in the extreme as they clapped and "bravo'd" for good plays and chuckled at the players' chatter and the razzing of the umpires.

The season ended officially with the Headquarters team crowned as R.C.A.F. champs. H.Q. beat a bomber squadron team from the outfit commanded by Wing Commander Len Fraser, of Winnipeg and Vancouver, 8-2, in the final.

In the semi-finals H.Q. whipped a team made up from members of another Canadian squadron, 16-1, while the bomber boys drew a bye.

WOMEN'S GOLF

Only serious competitive event the war has left on Britain's golfing calendar, The Daily Sketch national women's tournament, was staged over a Richmond course with most of the sixty-two entries in uniform. Transport Driver Wanda Morgan, English champion and winner of the event last season, improved on her 1941 triumph by three strokes to card 75 and win the Scratch Trophy. Victory made Miss Morgan the unofficial 1942 British golf queen. Frances Stephens, eighteen, and hailed as a future "world beater," took a first handicap prize carding a net 70. Pam Barton, British and American titlist, went out in 34, but failed badly on the last nine and carded 44.

To pierce the male ego, just hate to this, fellows: Jean Nicoll and Audrey Cardinall won a lawn tennis challenge match against two Dulwich school boy cricketers, Trevor Bailey and A. W. Mallett, 6-2, 6-2, at Beckenham. After the match the boys' suggestion of a single-wicket cricket match to get revenge was declined with thanks by the girls.

And here's another gal who whipped all the boys—Sun Chariot, the sprightly filly owned by the King and first filly to win the St. Leger in fifteen years. After she took the St. Leger—her third classic victory of the season, Steve Donoghue said she is the greatest racing filly of all time. Steve should know something about it because his career as a jockey and trainer goes back forty years.

BRUINS DEFEAT ARMY TEAM, 7-1

Rookies and Goalie Brimsek Star for National Leaguers In Exhibition Game

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 20 (CP)—Boston Bruins tonight overwhelmed the Cornwall basic training centre team, 7-1, in an exhibition match that thrilled a crowd of 2,000 in the Cornwall arena.

Three rookies and Goalie Frankie Brimsek starred for the National Hockey League Bruins, with the amateur line of Armand Guidolin, Don Gallenger and Bill Shill banging in five of the seven Boston goals. Brimsek offered a veritable stone-wall to every advance made by the Cornwall team of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

The army team made the first score, with Jimmy Drummond, assisted by Steve Latoski and Fassano slipping the puck past Brisek. Frankie lightened up his play after this first slip, however, and the Brimsek brilliance proved too much for the Cornwall players.

Guidolin and Gallenger were both credited with two goals. Shill counted once, and Bill Cowley and Harvey Jackson both sunk the puck once.

Sets New World's Record

When we say that Count Fleet, two-year-old owned by Mrs. John D. Hertz, literally flew home to victory in the Champagne Stakes at Belmont Park, we mean what we say. The picture proves it. Count Fleet set a new world's record for one mile, raced by two-year-olds. He ran the distance in 1:34 4-5. Count Fleet will be one of the Derby favorites next year.

GOOD MARKSMANSHIP

SIMCOE, Ont., Oct. 20 (CP).—Ellis Ryerse, a licensed guide at Turkey Point, comes under the heading of almost-perfect marksmen. Seven Canada wild geese flew over the place where he was standing and six fell to his gun.

DEMPSEY TO REFEREE FIGHT

MONTREAL, Oct. 20 (CP).—Jack Dempsey, now a lieutenant in the United States Coast Guard, will referee the Al Lust-Dave Castilloux bout for the Canadian welterweight title here on November 5, it was announced today by officials of the Victory Loan boxing show committee sponsoring the fight.

Baltimore—Lou Brooks, 181, Wilmington, Del., outpointed Tony Musto, 198 3-4, Chicago (ten).

Holyoke, Mass. — Tommy Jessup, 142, Springfield, Mass., knocked out Ernie King, 142, Fort Jay, N.Y. (six).

Drillon and Blake Will Provide Scoring Punch

Coach Dick Irvin Says Canadiens Looking "Fairly Good"—Black Hawks Go Through Light Workouts—Detroit Signs Veteran "Mud" Bruneteau

MONTREAL, Oct. 20 (CP).—It looks as though Gordie Drillon and Toe Blake are going to provide the scoring punch for Montreal Canadiens when the National Hockey League season opens at the end of the month. At any rate, Coach Dick Irvin is counting on these two to keep the puck rolling toward the opposite end of the rink.

"You may see the two of them together when we start the season," he said. "I am going to take a crack at it on Thursday night when we play Bruins at Cornwall in an exhibition game."

Irvin said he would like to see more scoring punch without losing any of the team's defensive ability. He added that the Habitants looked "fairly good" against the Army All-Stars last Saturday, but they didn't have enough scoring chances.

LIGHT DRILLS

HIBBING, Minn., Oct. 20 (CP).—The arrival of Fido Purpur, left wing of last season's Kansas City American Hockey Association Club, and Aldo Palazzari, left wing of the University of Illinois hockey team added two more players to the Black Hawks' camp here today. The entire squad, which now numbers twenty, worked out in morning and afternoon.

Trainer Ed Froelich asserted the mild workouts and massage would remove the muscle and joint soreness, and he promised to have the entire squad ready for heavy scrimmages which have been ordered by Manager Paul Thompson for Wednesday.

SIGNS VETERAN

DETROIT, Oct. 20 (CP).—The Detroit Red Wings signed one of their oldest veterans, twenty-seven-year-old Modere T. (Mud) Bruneteau for another season today.

Bruneteau was fourth of last year's squad to place his signature on the 1942-43 contract. It will be the ninth season with the Wings for Bruneteau who came up in 1934 from St. Boniface, Man.

The Red Wing veteran is best remembered for scoring the winning goal that broke up the National Hockey League's longest game after 116 minutes and 30 seconds of overtime. The game was between Wings and Montreal Maroons at Montreal in 1936.

LUST LEAVES FOR CASTILLOUX BOUT

Western Canada Welterweight Champion Off on First Leg of Jaunt—Nursing Bruised Finger

CALGARY, Oct. 20 (CP).—Pte. Al Lust, Western Canada welterweight boxing champion, left here tonight on the first leg of his jaunt to Eastern Canada and a November 5 bout with Dave Castilloux in Montreal for the Canadian championship.

Lust was accompanied by his brother-manager, Eppie, who fought as a middleweight under the name "Young Tunney."

When he left Calgary, Lust was still nursing a badly bruised middle finger on his right hand, suffered in last Friday's bout here with Eddie Marcus, of Los Angeles, but he believed it would heal sufficiently before November 5 to give him little trouble in his bout with Castilloux. He planned to rest the hand as much as possible before resuming hard training for the Montreal fight.

It was announced by Promoter Jack Singer before Lust left the city that negotiations were under way for a re-match between Lust and Marcus in Calgary November 20 or December 4. Lust won the decision over Marcus here Friday.

PUNCHING THE AXIS

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 20 (CP).—Albert T. Middleton, who established a world's record in 1922 by pounding a punching bag for thirty-six hours fifteen minutes, now is giving his punches to the Axis Powers as an employee of a Windsor war plant.

Newark, N.J.—Wallace Cross, 209, East Orange, N.J., knocked out Joe Muscato, 193, Buffalo, N.Y. (two).

Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Oct. 20 (CP).—Canadian sportsmen and women can be proud of the contributions they have made to the war effort.

The Dominion Government has asked that sport be carried on in the interests of public morale, but in some instances defence needs have outweighed those of morale. In two such cases, the Dominion found it necessary to take over the only indoor hockey rinks in Vancouver and Edmonton. Vancouver hockey has been switched to the New Westminster arena, and in Edmonton it is certain there will be no senior hockey this year and doubtful whether the juniors will be able to operate on open-air rinks.

Winnipeg and Montreal Winter Clubs have been taken over by the navy as barracks. Members will not begrudge the loss, but for many in each city the Winter Clubs had been their chief source of recreation. In Winnipeg, at least, there is no similar club to which the figure skaters can turn. And Winnipeg had taken years to build a fine club one which finally produced the Canadian and North American women's champion, Mary Rose Thacker. Now and for the duration, the club's skaters, the badminton and squash players, the bowlers and swimmers must pursue their favorite sports in less suitable quarters or find other recreation.

THE EXPERT SAYS:

Bill (Niagara Falls Review) Soutteran comments on the sale of the American Hockey League veteran, Chuck Shannon, by Eddie Shore's Buffalo Bisons to Pittsburgh: "Shore has carved himself a niche in hockey's hall of fame that will stand as long as the game itself, that is as a player, not a coach. He's got the brains and the ability, but in trying to hook them up he's one of the hardest task-masters in organized hockey and it's a cinch a boisterous antic-loving guy like Shannon would never get on with the Shore temperament."

INCIDENTALLY:

While thousands of sportsmen throughout the country hunt ducks, The Vancouver Sun comes up with an excellent idea for salvaging brass from used shells. A box is located in The Sun sports department where hunters can drop their empties . . . Former Toronto Maple Leaf hockey stars now in the services will be brought to Toronto by airplane from wherever they may be based in Canada to participate in a Maple Leaf Gardens charity hockey game, October 29. Nick Metz and Syl Apps will choose teams from the Leafs, past and present. All expenses will be borne by the gardens and the gross take turned over to war charities . . . Doug Peden, of Victoria, one of Canada's greatest all-round athletes and brother of Torchy, the six-day bike ace, has enlisted with the 27th Battery, R.C.A.

BATTLE TO DRAW

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 20 (AP).—Charley (Lulu) Constantino, 132 1-2, of New York, and Bobby (Poison) Ivy, 135, of Hartford, fought a slambang ten-round draw here tonight.

Ivy, an in-and-outer throughout his long career, had one of his "in" nights and enjoyed a pronounced edge in the frequent slugging duels that marked the bout.

Immediately a man got up, but before he could speak the girl said: "It's very good of you, but I'd rather stand."

He raised his hat and began: "I——"

"But——"

Again she interrupted him.

"I assure you, it's quite all right."

"But," he shouted, desperately, "I'm trying to get out."

THROWN FROM PLANE, LANDS ON WING

WHEN you're 800 feet up in an army trainer and your instructor noses the plane down, you may be catapulted out of it, unless your safety belt is fastened. That is what happened to Aviation Cadet Pin W. Crawford at the Army Air Force primary flying school at Jackson, Miss. While falling through the air he was scooped up by the tail of the plane. Coolness on his part and the skill of Civilian Instructor R. H. Emmert, enabled the plane to come to a satisfactory landing. In this picture Cadet Crawford poses on the wing to demonstrate how it happened.

WILL CUT BEER PARLOR HOURS

Liquor Stores to Be Affected By Rulings Due This Week

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP). — Announcement will be made before the end of this week of new restrictions imposed by Dominion and Provincial authorities on the sale and manufacture of alcoholic beverages, The Canadian Press was told today.

The extent of the new regulations was not learned in detail, but it was understood there will be some curtailment of the hours beverage rooms and liquor stores may remain open, and that the Dominion will enforce further restrictions on the manufacture of beers and wines and regulate the release of spirits from bond.

PROVINCES ACCEPT

Consultations among Dominion and Provincial officials have resulted in proposals which have been accepted by their respective Governments, it was learned. These proposals will be put into effect following announcements this week by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and the Liquor Control Boards of the various provinces.

The restrictions have been decided upon with a view not only of temperance, but to make some of the manpower now used in the liquor and beer industry available for essential war work.

This saving in manpower would start at the beverage rooms and liquor stores and extend right back to the breweries and wineries. For example, more than 1,000 men are employed by beer companies as agents keeping in touch with beverage room proprietors, one official said.

Unlike the United Kingdom, where barmaids are found everywhere in the "pubs," any attempts to introduce women to serve beer in Canadian beverage rooms have been unsatisfactory except in beverage rooms reserved for women and their escorts, it was said.

NOT LAST WORD

The proposals to be announced this week will not be the last word on restrictions. Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, Minister of National War Services, is head of a Cabinet committee studying the temperance question and, in consultation with his committee, he may recommend further restrictions in the interests of temperance. These further restrictions would be a matter of Dominion Government policy.

The consultations among Dominion and Provincial officials have been guided, it was stated, by opinions of how much action could be taken without furnishing an incentive for "blind pigs"—places where alcoholic beverages are sold illicitly—and bootleggers. The conferees also took into consideration the possibility of liquor being smuggled into Canada from the United States.

Cronin to Manage An Overseas Club

NEWTON, Mass., Oct. 20 (AP).—Joe Cronin, manager of Boston Red Sox, is going overseas for the American Red Cross—but he hopes he'll be back for baseball next year.

"And I think there will be baseball," he said at his home.

"I think the American people want it. Defence workers need some entertainment. I think it's one of the essentials for the American public. It gives vent to their feelings."

The Red Cross announced in Washington that Cronin would manage one of its overseas leave clubs for American military men but didn't say to which of its overseas operations he would be assigned.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
COLOR PHOTOGRAPHY

WITH all the beauty and drama that can be packed into photography, it's still very difficult to find any black-and-white picture which measures up to a good natural color snapshot. And without doubt that's one of the main reasons why color photography is becoming ever more popular these days.

Another reason, of course, is that it's just as easy to make fine color pictures as good black-and-white snapshots. So, now that Fall is here, why don't you load your camera with color film and take full advantage of the brilliant seasonal coloring.

Technically speaking, you have just a few simple things to do. First you should read the instruction sheet that comes with your film. That's important, even if you've taken color pictures before, because the two major types of color film have different reactions and characteristics—and color film differs radically from black-and-white.

Next, watch your exposures carefully. Correct exposure is absolutely vital to good color photography, so follow all exposure recommendations implicitly. With 35-mm. or sheet color film of the regular or outdoor type, the correct exposure for a crisp, clear, sunny day is 1/50 second at f/8.3, or 1/25 second at f/8. But, with roll type color film of the type that gives you a color negative, the basic exposure is 1/50 second at f/11.

Finally, watch the lighting. The best possible light for color photography is mid-morning or mid-afternoon sunshine on a bright, clear day. Front or "flat" lighting when the sun is behind the camera, as in our illustration, will give you the best results.

At the Theatres

OAK BAY THEATRE Inspired by the life of Edna Gladney, superintendent of the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society, the film "Blossoms in the Dust," which ends tonight at the Oak Bay Theatre, stars Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon in a drama which tells of the awakening of public interest in the field of child welfare.

PLAZA THEATRE Two and sometimes three camera crews instead of the usual one were used to photograph Abbott and Costello during the making of "Pardon My Sarong," their newest Universal comedy, now at the Plaza Theatre. The extra cameras were employed to save money and time. One camera was placed to get long shots, another to get close-ups of Abbott and the third to get close-ups of Costello.

RIO THEATRE "The Stars Look Down," starring Michael Redgrave and Margaret Lockwood, will end tonight at the Rio Theatre. Adapted from the novel by A. J. Cronin, who wrote "The Citadel," it deals with the lives of Welsh coal miners and provides thrills and thundering drama, against which is played the love of an earnest Oxford student for a selfish but beautiful girl who all but ruins his career.

YORK THEATRE "Holiday," the story of the Fifth Avenue "black sheep" who tries to conceal her affection for her sister's fiance, and of the promising young businessman who wants to take a "Holiday" in order to learn the real meaning of life, will end tonight at the York Theatre. In addition to Co-Stars Katharine Hepburn and Cary Grant, the cast includes Edward Everett Horton, Binnie Barnes, Jean Dixon, Doris Nolan and Lew Ayres.

ATLAS THEATRE The Miniver family shelter used in the film "Mrs. Miniver," now showing at the Atlas Theatre, was built from authentic plans of a patented underground air raid haven used in England, but when Director William Wyler came to direct the scenes, the space was too cramped for the six-foot three-inch 193-pound Pidgeon, and the construction department had to be called in to enlarge it.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Atlas — "Mrs. Miniver," starring Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon.

Cadet — Eleanor Powell and Red Skelton in "Ship Ahoy."

Capitol — "This Above All," with Tyrone Power and Joan Fontaine.

Plaza — Bud Abbott and Lou Costello in "Pardon My Sarong."

Rio — "The Stars Look Down," with Michael Redgrave and Margaret Lockwood.

York — Katharine Hepburn and Cary Grant in "Holiday."

CADET THEATRE A delightful combination of dancing and music by Eleanor Powell and Tommy Dorsey's Orchesta, with comedy by Red Skelton, Virginia O'Brien and Bert Lahr, is on the bill at the Cadet Theatre, where the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical comedy, "Ship Ahoy," will end tonight.

CAPITOL THEATRE Tyrone Power plays his most powerful role as Clive Briggs in the filmization of Eric Knight's widely-read novel, "This Above All," now showing at the Capitol Theatre. With Power is Joan Fontaine in this stirring film which was produced by Darryl F. Zanuck. Others in the cast include Thomas Mitchell, Henry Stephenson, Philip Merivale, Sara Allgood, Gladys Cooper, and others.

DOMINION THEATRE Most of the scenes of "Murder in the Big House," the current attraction at the Dominion Theatre, are laid within prison walls, but there are many in one of the most realistic newspaper offices ever shown in a motion picture, for it is a couple of newspaper reporters and a brisk feminine newshawk who solve the mysterious happening in the Big House.

HER METHOD

"My wife," said Mr. Henpeck, "kisses me every time I come into the house."

"Ah," said his friend, "that's affection."

"No," sighed Henpeck, "that's investigation."

WILL PRESENT SURGICAL VAN

Red Cross to Receive Mobile Operating Unit From Canadian Legion Today

This afternoon, at 3 o'clock in front of the Parliament Buildings an interesting ceremony will take place when a [illegible] Red Cross for overseas use will be put in care of emergencies.

The van, a complete operating room on wheels, is being presented by the Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion. It is the donation of the Women's Auxiliary and will be presented by Robert Knott, president of the district. Gordon W. S. Wootton, at the absence of W. S. Topping, president of the Victoria and District Red Cross will accept the vehicle.

The idea of such a van originated with Dr. F. W. Brink, president of the Victoria Medical Society, and was enthusiastically taken up by the Canadian Legion and branches of the [illegible] throughout the province.

The van, which will be operated by a team consisting of a surgeon, an anaesthetist, a nurse and an orderly, will be available for use in an area comprising the Upper Peninsula, the Cowichan Valley and extending as far as Jordan River. The Medical Association has promised to supply the services of the Victoria Chapter of the R.N.A.B.C. The Legion also will be drawn on for a number of Red Cross Women's Auxiliary Corps.

After the war the van will be turned over to the provincial Department of Health to be used as a travelling clinic, serving outlying districts.

Private A. Ferguson of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, was immediately surrounded by droves of admirers and newspapermen when he stepped off the hospital train at Montreal, home from the hell of Dieppe. But his opening remarks had nothing to do with battle. "Oh boy! Coffee!" he exclaimed as he reached for the cup offered by Miss June Letts, one of the Montreal hostesses of the Canadian Legion War Services.

FUR PIONEER'S LIFE REVEALED

Historical Society Learns Details in Career of Dr. John McLoughlin

One of the first accurate accounts of the early life of Dr. John McLoughlin and of his activity while in charge of the Pacific Coast area for the Hudson's Bay Company was given the B.C. Historical Society, Victoria Section No. 1, last night by Dr. W. Kaye Lamb.

Dr. Lamb, of the University of British Columbia library, edited the first volume of letters of Dr. McLoughlin, which has recently been published by the Hudson's Bay Records Society. He thus was able to throw considerable new light on the fur trader's career.

NEW MATERIAL

Although Dr. Loughlin's success as a trader, and what he did on the Pacific Coast for the fur trade, are well known to historians, Dr. Lamb revealed the character behind the financial records, and the trader's difficulties of management which are not apparent in most histories.

Of Scottish-Irish-French ancestry, John McLoughlin actually studied medicine as it was taught during his youth at the end of the eighteenth century, but eventually became a fur trader with the old North West Company, Dr. Lamb said.

A prime mover in the amalgamation of his company and the Hudson's Bay Company, he was sent by the latter to the Columbia River in 1824, partly because of his influence and partly through his wide acquaintance with other senior employees of the company in that area.

WIDE POWERS

Despite his problems, which included control of the Vancouver Island area, meeting of competition and severe arguments with his superiors regarding trade policy, Dr. McLoughlin made a success of the business, Dr. Lamb said, and usually was found to be quite the equal of any dissenter, whether within or without the company.

Dr. Lamb's address followed a discussion of the production of a brochure commemorating the centennial anniversary next year of the founding of Victoria. Mrs. A. S. Christie, regent of Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., and a new member of the Historical Society, spoke in favor of the brochure and of the forming of a joint committee of the society and chapter to carry out the plan. At last night's meeting the society's delegates were appointed, who will serve with I.O.D.E. members.

ARCHDUKE FAILS AS FARMER

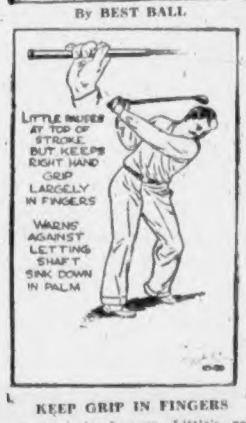
CALGARY, Oct. 20 (CP).—"He's sure a swell fellow, but he can't pitch bundles—he only lasted half a day." So said Mrs. J. M. Cummings, of Huxley, when asked today how Archduke Rudolf of Austria got along on her farm as a harvester. "The work was too heavy for him and his hands all blistered," she added.

FURLOUGHS FOR OLDER MEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP).—President Roosevelt said today he imagined that some older men now in the United States Army who would be useful in war production would be furloughed rather than kept in combat divisions in uniforms.

GRAPHIC GOLF

By BEST BALL



KEEP GRIP IN FINGERS

A turn in Lawson Little's golf career came when he sought out Tommy Armour, particularly to improve his iron shots as well as tone up his whole game generally. Little himself claims that one bit of advice Armour gave him proved just the tonic to brace up his whole game; a game incidentally which subsequently proved good enough to win two National Amateur titles, two British Amateur titles, one National Open and a host of other championships. This concerned a slight pause at the top of the backstroke, a demarcation line between the completed backswing and the start of the downstroke.

Little unhesitatingly recommends that golfers adapt this slight pause in their own swing. Those golfers who lash the clubhead downwards before the backswing is even completed would be amazed with the results this technique makes possible. The danger point, if it might be called that, lies in the tendency of many players to allow the shaft of the club at this point to sink down in the crotch between the thumb and forefinger of the right hand. This changes the grip from a finger affair to a distinct palm hold, disturbing the clubhead's final alignment with the ball and reducing wrist action.

WHAT WERE YOU DOING WHILE I WAS AT Dieppe?

"Have you any idea what that night was like? A murderous storm of machine-gun bullets . . . the blasts of point-blank shell-fire . . . the bursts of bombs and hand-grenades . . . the desperate, hand-to-hand, life-or-death struggles in the darkness and smoke . . . the shock of seeing your pals hit. For what? . . . For YOU!

"Yes, for you, and your family and your home . . . and for my family and my home, too . . . to keep them safe from the beasts that would brutalize them. Aye, and for Canada . . . our country . . . clean and sweet and beautiful . . . and for all the lands where men must be free. And if you had seen your fellow Canadians fight that night, you would know how much we cared about all these things that you are enjoying now.

"So I'm asking you: Are you giving every last ounce of effort, making the personal sacrifices that will back us up over here? Are you going all out to get us the things we need . . . to pay for the weapons we want? If you are . . . we'll win! If you're not . . ."

"Soldier . . . count me in! I know what you're doing . . . and I'll do all I can. Sure, taxes are heavy, but besides what you're risking, this is a picnic. So I'm giving up things . . . personal things I can do without until the war is over, and you and all the others are back home, victorious.

"Yes . . . I know how lucky I am! I'm only asked to lend . . . but if I had to choose between the way we live in Canada, and the way they'd make us live if they won . . . why I'd give all that I've got to keep that from happening! As it is, when I buy the new Victory Bonds I will be laying up for myself the best of all investments. VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; I can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when I need the cash."

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

What Today Means

LIBRA

If October 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date will be from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m., and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods will b from 7:15 to 9:15 a.m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m., and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

There are many indications that unusual skepticism will prevail on October 21, so do not be surprized if you find yourself confronted by more than one doubting Thomas. You may have much to lose and, certainly nothing to gain by refusing to listen to whatever others have to say on this date. Realize that "facts are stubborn things" which no wise person can afford to ignore—whether they like them or not. On this day the actions of the average person are apt to have direct or indirect influence on personal affairs, so be careful about your general behavior, particularly if it involves your attitude toward business associates or close relatives. Married and engaged couples, and those inveigled by cupid into playing a game of hearts, will find that broken promises long will be remembered and the one fulfilled also is not likely to be forgotten quickly.

If you are a woman and October 21 is your birthday, never let success go to your head or cause you to form an exalted opinion of yourself if you wish to retain the love and respect of those you hold most dear. Make it a rule never to discuss your family affairs outside your home circle if you want to do the wise and proper thing and perhaps save yourself from getting involved with an unsuspected trouble-maker. As a professional woman, especially as a lawyer, doctor, photographer, writer, educator, trained nurse, dietitian, technician or in the employ of your government, you may find yourself playing an important part in the war effort or helping others to face the future successfully. As a wife, remember that encouragement and praise is conducive to happiness, so be lavish with both.

If you are a man and October 21 is your natal day, never allow yourself to become so absorbed in personal affairs that you forget your duty to others. Only unselfishness will enable you to attain the degree of happiness to which you are entitled. Your activity as a lecturer, military man, government official, clergyman, surgeon, actor, artist, musician, inventor, builder, architect, manufacturer or in some managerial capacity, should place you on the threshold of an enviable future.

(By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

ONE OR THE OTHER

If your wife laughs at your jokes you may be sure you have some good ones—or else you have a mighty good wife.

MAYBE FOR TWO

The visitor to the crowded service at a popular church was compelled to leave early, and during the sermon tried to steal quietly away. As he tiptoed down the aisle his new boots cracked like a forest in a gale. He reached the door in a state of collapse.

"By Jove," he remarked to the verger, "I wouldn't do that again for a dollar." Then his face took on a mottled tint as he realized he had left his hat in the pew.

Little Stories for Bedtime

A Plot to Frighten Old Man Coyote

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Mischief leads to mischief, for it is almost sure
To never, never be content without a little more.

"Yo' know she isn't wasting any love on him. What do yo' all say?"

Now, you would think that after Peter Rabbit's very, very narrow escape from the clutches of Old Granny Fox that Jimmy Skunk, Unc' Billy Possum, Peter Rabbit, and Prickly Porky would have been satisfied with the pranks they had already played. But no, sir, they were not. You see when danger is over it is quickly forgotten. No sooner had Peter been made comfortable in the old house behind the big stump on the hill where Prickly Porky lives than the four scamps began to wonder whom else they could scare with the terrible creature without head or legs or tail, which had so frightened Reddy and Old Granny Fox.

"There is Old Man Coyote; he is forever frightening those smaller and weaker than himself. I'd just love to see him run," said Peter Rabbit.

"The very one!" cried Jimmy Skunk. "I wonder if he would be afraid. You know he is smarter than Granny Fox, and though she was frightened at first, she soon got over it. How do you suppose we can get him over here?"

"We uns take Br'er Jay into our secret. Br'er Jay will tell Br'er Coyote that Br'er Rabbit is up here on Br'er Porky's hill, so hurt that he can't get home," said Unc' Billy Possum. "That's all Br'er Jay needs to say. Br'er Coyote is gwine to come up here hot foot with his tongue hanging out fo' that dinner he's sho' is waiting fo' him here."

"Y- won't do anything of the kind!" spoke up little Mrs. Peter, who, you know, had bravely left the dear old Brier Patch and come up here in the Green Forest to take care of Peter. "Peter has had trouble enough already, and I'm not going to let him have any more, so there!"

"Peter isn't going to get into any trouble," spoke up Jimmy Skunk. "Peter and you are going to be just as safe as if you were over in the Old Brier Patch, for you will be in that old house where nothing can harm you. Now, please, Mrs. Peter, don't be foolish. You don't like Old Man Coyote, do you? You'd like to see him get a great scare to make up for the scares he has given Peter and you, wouldn't you?"

Little Mrs. Peter was forced to admit that she would, and after a little more teasing she finally agreed to let them try this plan for giving Old Man Coyote a scare. Sammy Jay happened along just as Jimmy Skunk was starting out to look for him, and when he was told what was wanted of him he agreed to do his part. You know Sammy is always ready for any mischief. Just as he started to look for Old Man Coyote Unc' Billy Possum made another suggestion.

"We uns have had a lot of fun with Reddy and Granny Fox," said he, "and now it seems to me it is no more than fair to invite them over to see Old Man Coyote and what he will do when he first sees the terrible creature that has frightened them so. Granny knows now that there is nothing to be afraid of, and perhaps she will forget her anger if she has a chance to see Old Man Coyote run away. Yo' know she isn't wasting any love on him. What do yo' all say?"

Peter and Mrs. Peter said "No!" right away, but Jimmy Skunk and Prickly Porky thought it a good idea, and of course Sammy Jay was willing. After a little, when it was more pointed out to them that they would be perfectly safe in the old house behind the big stump, Peter and Mrs. Peter agreed, and Sammy started out on his errand.

Next story: Sammy Jay Delivers His Message.

(Released by the Associated Newspapers)

He was the squire of the village as well as a member of Parliament, and didn't let people forget it. All the local shopkeepers put up with his nonsense for the sake of his custom.

But when rationing started and he grumbled because the grocer couldn't sell him extra sugar, the storm broke.

"And let me tell you, sir," the grocer finished up; "You may be squire and sit in Parliament, but to me you're just another ration book!"

TUBERCULOSIS BEING BEATEN

Britain, Armed With New Weapon, Declares Total War on Scourge

LONDON, Oct. 20 (CP).—Armed with a new weapon, Britain has declared total war on an insidious, unseen enemy that pulls no punches and strikes anywhere. More deadly than a fifth column, it has lurked in Britain for hundreds of years and is known as "The white thief of life and happiness."

Tuberculosis — that's the arch-villain—can be defeated, even during the extra strains imposed by war, Health Minister Ernest Brown told the nation in a broadcast. In the biggest drive ever attempted against the disease, the new instrument would play a mighty part.

The weapon is a miniature X-ray apparatus which takes chest photographs 1½ inches square of 100 persons an hour. Signs of tuberculosis can be detected much earlier than in any other form of examination.

In addition, financial aid will be given persons with dependents who have to give up work temporarily during treatment for the scourge.

Testing by teams of skilled operators will begin early in 1943. Thousands of persons—both sick and well—will be examined.

Mr. Brown said that consumption deaths in Britain are only half of what they were in the first Great War.

In Germany, where increase in the disease was several times greater than in Britain, consumptives were kept at work in factories where they infected workmates, he added.

"If that is the Germans' idea of the new order, it is not ours."

VANCOUVER LAWYER HURT

VANCOUVER, Oct. 20 (CP). — George R. Annable, well-known Vancouver barrister, was reported in fair condition in hospital today with injuries suffered when struck by a street car while pushing his auto after the battery gave out.

"OUR COUNTRY IS THE WORLD . . ."

A little over one hundred years ago, William Lloyd Garrison, with his partner, Isaac Knapp, started an anti-slavery newspaper — The Liberator—that kept going until slavery was abolished in the United States.

The guidon flown at the masthead of this zealous and unequivocating advocate was:

Three brigands, with a comparatively tiny, but well-armed gang, are holding a gun at our country . . . at our countrymen . . . bent upon possessing the one and enslaving the other, set to press the jump they got on us, 'till shot away by greater fire power.

That they eventually will get their deserts uncompromisingly—to that we are committed or we shall die; but how can those responsible for protracting for one split second the agony of our country, which is the world, of our countrymen, which is mankind, how can the politicians, the shirkers, the 'gougers and the gimme groups sleep at night with their consciences?
